Final Agreement Is Achieved At 9-Power Parley

LONDON, Oct. 2 —UP— The crucial nine-power London conference reached a historic final agreement in principle Saturday night on restoration of German sovereignty and rearming of that nation on the side of the U. S. and its allies.

Dutch Foreign Minister Johann Beyen said it was all over except for the final communique.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced triumphantly that the conference had reached "full agreement and its final declaration containing texts of agreements will be signed Saturday night or early Sunday morning."

The final session was expected Sunday.

The agreement came after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles proposed, and West Germany immediately accepted, a two-year moratorium on German manufacture of atom bombs and bacteriological and chemical weapons.

The compromise agreement was another triumph for French Premier Pierre Mendes-France who won new concessions by throwing the conference into a critical deadlock Friday night. He went to bed with the grippe, however, and was not on hand for the ending.

Almost every delegate who emerged from Saturday's sessions spoke of things going well. But Beyen said only some "odds and ends" remained to be cleaned up before the final communique is published.

A German spokesman said the United States, Britain and France had put their stamp of approval on a declaration of intent to restore sovereignty to West Germany—an action that means the stiff occupation controls can be relaxed at once.

The agreements came in two super-secret sessions of the nine foreign ministers who shooed everyone out of the conference room except for one aide apiece. Shortly afterwards they announced formally they had reached "an area of agreement" on control of German rearmament.

Mendes - France, sniffling and coughing with grippe despite the winter underwear he donned two days ago, left the talks at Lancaster house and went to bed at the French embassy, leaving his secretary of state, Roland De Moustier, in charge of the French delegation.

Conference sources said that in-

Twins Joined At Top Of Heads Are Born In Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (AP)—Twin girls, attached at the top of their heads, lay healthy and oblivious to the problems their attachment posed today to their parents and doctors.

The babies, weighing about six pounds each, were born yesterday in St. Anne's Hospital to Mrs. Norene Andrews, 35, by Caesarean section.

Mrs. Andrews and her husband, Wilfred J. Andrews, a 38-year-old salesman for a packing firm, awaited the outcome of complex tests which will determine the feasibility of separating the youngsters.

The little girls are joined, the father said, "very much like the Brodie twins," Rodney Dee and Roger Lee. The Brodie youngsters, born Sept. 16, 1951 at Rock Island, Ill., were separated in a lengthy operation Dec. 17, 1952 at the University of Illinois hospital in Chicago. One of the boys, Rodney, survives in good health except for lack of normal skull bone over a patch at the top of his head. Roger died 34 days after the surgery.

Andrews said an X-ray disclosed that his twins have a bony connection. He said it has been decided to ask the specialists who separated the Brodies to examine the Andrews twins.

The father said he was hopeful that lessons of the Brodie case might give his babies a good chance to live normally. No final decision has been made on wheth-

Two American Soldiers Freed By Red Czechs

Seized Two Weeks Ago On Border, As American 'Spies'

WAIDHAUS, Germany, Oct. 2 —UP— Two American soldiers kidnaped by Communist Czechoslovakia border guards two weeks ago crossed a small stone bridge to freedom Saturday, pale and nervous but apparently in good condition.

They were 1st Lt. Richard H. Dries, New York, and Pfc. George M. Pisk, 4507 Placid Place, Austin Tex.

Release of the two men came after several weeks of negotiations. The Czech government claimed they entered Czechoslovakia on an espionage mission, and the U. S. embassy in Prague insisted they were on "routine" business when captured inside Germany.

The two arrived at the stone bridge across the Rehlingsback stream which forms the border here shortly after 11 a.m. in a two-car Czech convoy. The Czechs placed them in a border control house and German border official Karl Wenzel entered after them.

Wenzel emerged a few minutes later with the two men and they crossed to freedom — and intensive interrogation by American Army officials.

Fifty yards inside the German border they were greeted by two U.S. captains, one of them an intelligence man from Nuernberg, who stood waiting with carbine in hand. The other was in full battle dress.

Dries, still wearing the civilian clothes in which he was captured, approached the two officers, shook their hands and said "hello, sir" to the first.

Many of the 2,500 inhabitants of this border town were strung out along the road that leads to the barbed wire frontier where many other Iron Curtain captives, including Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis, were released.

Flags were flying on the Czech side of the border, but not in honor of the occasion. They were for a festival of St. Wenceslaus, the patron saint of Czechoslovakia.

Both Dries and Pisk appeared somewhat drawn, but otherwise looked in good shape. Their pants were neatly pressed and both had recently had haircuts.

Newspapermen covering the release were told not to question the two ex-prisoners, and the Army said a press conference would be held Monday in Nuernberg.

68-Year-Old Man Struck By Auto, Dies Of Injuries

Arthur L. Harris, 68-year-old Dillsboro, N. C., mining engineer who was struck down by an automobile as he attempted to cross the street with his wife Thursday night, died at 5:20 a.m. Saturday in St. Francis hospital here.

According to Dr. J. T. French, Ouachita parish coroner, Harris died as the result of a fractured skull and traumatic brain injury.

His wife, Helen, 66, also hit by the car, remained in critical condition at the same hospital Saturday, suffering from a fractured skull and five fractured ribs.

The couple was hit by an automobile driven by Ted Louis Carter, 23, 300 Bell avenue, a recently discharged serviceman. No charges have as yet been filed, but Dr. French said he will conduct an investigation into the case early next week.

Police said the accident occurred in the 2200 block of Louisville avenue Thursday night shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Harris had finished supper in a restaurant across the street from their motel.

They had started back across the street, officers said, when they were struck by Carter's car, which was headed west on Louisville. The officers said Carter told them he saw the couple, and attempted to stop, but was too close to avoid them.

Harris was reportedly an executive in a mining company in Dillsboro.

Two daughters of the couple, Mrs. E. H. Lowenhoupt and Mrs. Louis Garbrecht, Jr., both of El Paso, were in Monroe Saturday.

Group Is Organized To Act Against Annexation

Organization of a large group of citizens opposing annexation to the city of West Monroe was announced Saturday.

Plans for the organization were perfected at a meeting Thursday night at McGuire golf course club house, attended by representatives from McGuire, Splane and Sunshine Heights subdivision.

Officials of West Monroe have made a proposal that these subdivisions be incorporated in the city of West Monroe. They have contended that residents would enjoy many additional advantages if included in the city limits.

A permanent organization was formed to oppose the suggested annexation and ways and means were discussed for unified opposition. A vote was taken by those assembled, and Sam A. Orchard was elected chairman, with Fred L. Strickland as secretary. An executive committee was also elected composed of J. R. Cannon, Donald E. Logan and James B. Warner. The following working committees were then appointed by chairman Orchard:

Petition committee, chairman, Wes F. Wall, W. C. Bell, Milton Childers, Mrs. Vivian J. Landrum, R. T. Lolley, Truman McCrea, H. C. Pipes, James D. Vance.

Utility committee, Chairman, E. H. Busbice, Milton Childers, Jack Dew, Grady Hicks.

The utility committee was given instructions to procure all information and facts relative to the formation of a water utility district to serve the people in the areas effected by the proposed annexation, with instructions, if possible, to return with this information to the next meeting.

The meeting was enthusiastic and all of those who attended were opposed to being annexed to the city of West Monroe.

The petition committee was instructed to circulate petitions for and against annexation. Any one interested in signing either of these petitions is urged to contact any member of this committee.

It was voted to hold the next meeting of this organization at the McGuire golf course club house, on the night of Thursday, Oct. 7, at 7:30 p.m. All interested parties are urged to and given a cordial invitation to attend this meeting.

Red Disarmament Plan Opposed By Gen. Gruenther

DENVER, Oct. 2 —UP— Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme Allied commander in Europe, said Saturday the Russian disarmament plan introduced in the United Nations would make it impossible for the Western Allies to defend the European continent against an all-out Red attack.

He also told a news conference at the Denver White House, where he came to report to President Eisenhower, that if the Russians were to launch an attack on Europe tomorrow the Western Allies would not be able to match "what the Soviets can put against us."

He said while the Reds would win the first phase of an attack, however, they could not win the war against the overwhelming United States superiority in the strategic air field.

Gruenther said the Russians placed their atomic controls plan before the UN General Assembly under the guise of "wanting to protect women and children." In reality he said Soviet Russia was well aware that an atomic ban would seriously cripple the ability of the Western powers to stave off a Red attack.

"They're very clever people," Gruenther said. "If this doesn't work we might next see a proposal that we ban atomic weapons except in retaliation."

The NATO chief flew to Denver from his Paris headquarters Friday night to report to Mr. Eisenhower on European developments.

Gruenther often has been mentioned as a possible successor to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as Army chief of staff. There were strong rumors at the Denver White House Saturday that the President soon would announce the appointment of Gruenther as chief of staff at the end of Ridgway's tour of duty next June.

Before meeting with the Chief Executive Saturday Gruenther told a news conference that the Russian disarmament proposal was a very effective piece of propaganda in Europe.

"He (the Russian army) is going to have trouble getting close to the U.S.," Gruenther said, "but we are going to have more and more trouble with the European folks who are under the gun.

Gruenther said the Western powers were battling a type of Russian ideological cold-war "much tougher and much more clever" than that masterminded by the late Josef Stalin.

He said the regime of Premier Georgi Malenkov was far ahead of the United States in working up propaganda.

"We're in the big leagues now," Gruenther said. "We have got to improve some of our know-how in this field of public opinion. The characteristics of impatience which some Americans have shown over the current nine-power London conference are not necessarily the answer in the foreign policy field.

Thundershowers Predicted Today

Although a cold wave that gripped the nation in the beginning of October in 1920 — 34 years ago— brought frost and ice to the Southland, it would have been a rather unconvincing story to tell the younger generation in the Twin Cities yesterday. According to the CAA at Selman Field the mercury reached the 95 degree mark here yesterday. The low for the day was 71 degrees.

The government weather bureau has predicted partly cloudy skies for Louisiana and Arkansas today and Monday with widely scattered thundershowers. Not much change in temperature is expected.

Oil Explosions Rip 10 Barges; 1 Man Missing

3 Louisianans In Hospitals After Memphis Disaster

MEMPHIS, Tenn., —UP— The Mississippi riverfront was rocked by a series of explosions today, flames enveloping 10 barges loaded with 140,000 barrels of fuel oil from Baton Rouge, La. Miraculously, a heavy casualty was averted.

One man was reported missing and three others injured.

The first explosion, shortly after noon, occurred while the city was in the midst of a fire prevention celebration near the scene of the river blast.

High school bands and other paraders marched along Main street in downtown Memphis when the first alarm was sent out. Television stations carrying the parade, suddenly broadcast the alarm for firemen in line of march to report to the fire scene.

Fire apparatus in the parade were detoured out of line, racing down the bluff to the scene.

Five Louisiana men were on the barge when the first explosion rocked the first barge. Four men jumped into the river and swam to safety.

The missing man was identified as Michael J. Marchand, 35, of New Orleans.

Two men taken to hospitals, suffering from burns were identified as James Guidry, 23, of Henderson, La., and Herbert Gomez, 35, of Baton Rouge, La. The other two men who reached shore safely were identified as Bob Landry, 40, of Morganza, La., and George Lee Bergeron, 33, of Arnaudville, La.

Methodist hospital identified another patient as L. Laudace, 43, of Brownview, La.

The barges had been towed here by the Esso Louisiana out of Baton Rouge.

Percy J. Dupuis of Drawbridge, La., crew member on the towboat Esso Louisiana, which was tied astern of the barge fire, said one of the hoses through which fuel was being pumped apparently broke and gasoline hit the exhaust pipe of the diesel pump engine.

Quemoy Hit By Heavy Artillery Fire From Reds

TAIPEH, Formosa, Oct. 2—UP— The Chinese Communists began a heavy bombardment of the Nationalist Island of Quemoy Saturday while loudspeakers on the mainland bragged that the island would be captured within two weeks.

Military spokesman Gen. Chang Yi-Ting said the Reds unleashed a combined artillery-propaganda assault in an attempt to undermine the morale of the island's defense forces.

Between heavy shelling of the island, the Reds switched on loudspeakers and boomed threats of impending invasion interspersed with pleas to the Nationalist troops to desert. In some instances, the mothers of soldiers stationed on Quemoy were used to appeal to their sons.

Chang said Nationalist gunners were retaliating and that warplanes and naval ships were patrolling the coastal waters to guard against any Red invasion attempt.

Chang said heavy Communist truck movements had been spotted around Amoy on the mainland, just opposite Quemoy. He also said that "ominous" Communist activity had been reported along the Chekiang province coast near Tachen Island, Nationalist China's northernmost outpost some 200 miles north of Formosa.

The spokesman, however, minimized the Red threats to seize Quemoy before Oct. 15, pointing out that the same loudspeakers had earlier predicted the island would fall before Sept. 11.

On Formosa itself, premier O. K Yui Saturday called for "increased vigilance" in the wake of new Red threats to "liberate" the Nationalist island stronghold.

The government was reported stocking nine days supplies of food in Taipeh against the threat of Red air attacks. There were rumors that the Communists would bomb the city on Oct. 10, date of the traditional Nationalist "double tenth" holiday, anniversary of the founding of the first Chinese republic.

James Higdon Fund Is Oversubscribed; Public's Response Remarkable

By H. H. BRINDSMADE
Staff Writer

The James Higdon fund was full up to the brim this Saturday noon. The goal of $500 has been reached and slightly more. We ask that no more donations be submitted.

In many years' experience on the staff of the News-Star — World we have never seen the equal of the James Higdon campaign when it comes to an outpouring of money. It appears that everyone wanted to donate, and checks, dollars, silver, nickel and copper rushed in. The News-Star — World offices were almost swamped with contributions by mail and in person.

Phones rang and this and that one informed that he or she was mailing in money and wished the campaign great success.

One woman, no name signed, wrote she was sending a dollar. "This is for the unfortunate mother and son who are ill. May God, if it be His will, use it to restore them to health again. Lovingly, "A poor old woman who just loves to help the needy."

Fifty - eight letters, each with money, came to the newspaper office from a certain bottled drink company. But we just do have to mention against the policy of this campaign that has refrained from using names, one institution that made itself proud. The St. Joseph's Home for Aged, located from its inception on Cypress street, has been a worthy and needy object of the generosity of Monroe and West Monroe people. Many times in the past this institution has been remembered by individuals and organizations. This week was no exception to the rule.

The check for $100 was received with the understanding that it was to make possible the purchase of [illegible] for the Home. Rev. [illegible] pastor of the Home, was informed that a recognition be made [illegible].

This was that of a [illegible] man who probably [illegible] the good will. He [illegible] but not [illegible] last [illegible].

"But you must not give it," he [illegible] "Put it [illegible] give the much needed [illegible] do crushed rocks." He asked only that the credit of his gift go to his wife, Mrs. Todd Moore, 439 South street, West Monroe.

The campaign has done good in a number of ways. Not only is a worthy cause aided but also it has awakened a community spirit, a desire to cooperate, that has pushed aside all selfish thoughts, all desire to outdo each other. Personal dislikes and quarrels were found no place in their minds and actions when a real emergency for someone loomed.

People did not stop with dimes, they paid off in dollars or more in many cases. It has proved a great object lesson in successful united giving — spontaneously conducted personally. All who so acted may well take comfort in the Scriptures. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

Negro Boy Dies After Being Hit By Automobile

A 15-year-old Monroe Negro boy died in Charity hospital late Friday night as a result of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile and the alleged driver of the car was jailed Saturday on a charge of negligent homicide.

The boy was Albert Jones of 311 11th Street, who was struck by an automobile about 11:20 p.m. Friday while he was walking with a companion in the 200 block of 11th Street. He died of internal hemorrhages and shock at 11:40 p.m. Friday, Dr. J. T. French, Ouachita Parish coroner, said.

Charged with negligent homicide in the case and held in the Ouachita Parish jail is Lindsey Williams, 24-year-old Bosco Negro, who was taken into custody on hit-and-run and reckless driving charges before word of the boy's death was received.

The negligent homicide charge was filed when the hospital notified police young Jones was dead, about 1:30 a.m. Saturday.

According to investigating officers, Jones and a companion, Curtis Gipson of 311 8th Street, were walking south on 11th Street on the west side of the street when a car, allegedly being driven by Wil-

Storm Develops In Central Gulf

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 2 (AP)—A Navy hurricane hunter plane winged from Jacksonville toward the central Gulf of Mexico late today to probe an area where the weather bureau believed a tropical storm may be brewing.

The area of suspicion developed in the Gulf off the western tip of Cuba in an easterly wave which moved across Florida yesterday and last night. Today it extended offshore from Tampa to Western Cuba.

W. R. Davis, storm forecaster in the Miami weather bureau, said "something appears to be cooking" at the southern end of the easterly wave. Circulation has developed in the upper air, and Davis said it probably wouldn't take long to extend downward to the surface. That's the way tropical storms are born.

The easterly wave — a band of bad weather moving from the east —left south Florida drenched as it moved on. Some showers still fell.

Two persons died in traffic accidents on slippery streets, and many were injured. Eighteen were hurt in Miami alone. A bus-truck collison cut and bruised 13 persons.

Top Official In Defense Setup Facing Charges

Wartime Premier Paul Reynaud Is Mystery Witness

PARIS, Oct. 2 (AP) — A Communist journalist arrested in flight, a top-ranking civil servant charged with endangering France's security, a former premier as a surprise witness and a mysterious young woman summoned for questioning — those were today's developments in France's sensational defense secrets case.

Security agents appeared to be moving rapidly toward a complete explanation of how top secret information from the nation's highest military planning body was leaked and wound up in the Communist party's top command. But why and specifically to whom were questions not yet fully answered officially.

Andre Baranes, Communist newspaperman and police informer who had disappeared after his interrogation by counterespionage agents Sept. 21, was arrested at a monastery in east central France, reportedly in flight toward the Swiss frontier.

Jean Mons, top official in the French national defense organization, faced a military examining magistrate to explain how two of his most trusted aides now under arrest—were extreme leftist sympathizers who leaked official secrets to outsiders. Mons, under job suspension, was charged formally today with endangering the security of the state but was not jailed.

Paul Reynaud, wartime premier of France and prominent elder statesman, made a surprise appearance to give evidence to the magistrate.

A Mrs. Meridor-Lesseron, a young woman code clerk, made a mysterious appearance before Maj. Jean de Ressegnier, the investigator. Authorities at first refused to disclose her identity, then later released only her last name and no official account of what she said. But reliable informants said she told of irregularities, [illegible] and disappearances of documents from the military communications center where she works.

The case broke two weeks ago when an anti-Communist police inspector Jean Dides was searched by counterintelligence officers and found to have in his possession a report of a meeting of the National Defense Committee. He claimed to have obtained the report from [illegible] aides. The [illegible] was not published.

Batchelor's Wife Sorry She Urged His Return Home

TOKYO, Oct. 2—UP—Mrs. Kyoko Batchelor, the Japanese wife of Cpl. Claude Batchelor, said through a flood of tears Saturday she regretted writing the letters which helped persuade him to return to his country.

Batchelor was sentenced to life imprisonment for collaborating with the Communists while a prisoner of war in Korea. He had announced he was not returning to the United States from the Red prison camp but changed his mind when Kyoko wrote to him.

"If it was to be life imprisonment, it would have been far better for him not to return," the 23-year-old Kyoko said. "But I will wait forever until my husband is freed."

Her father, Ryoichi Araki, 62, reacted with bewilderment and said, "the penalty was so harsh I can't understand it."

"I knew the Americans hate communism," he said. "But they are the ones who appealed to him to come back. And when he came back I knew he had to expect some sort of punishment. But life. It is unbelievable."

Kyoko went into hiding "to think things out" Friday afternoon when she heard that a general court martial in San Antonio had sentenced Batchelor to life imprisonment.

She returned to her parents' home Saturday but said she planned to go to a "friend's place for a while because if I stay here we just can't help talking about this thing."

She pointed out that Cpl. Edward Dickenson, another "progressive" who changed his mind and returned to the West was given a 10 year sentence and said, "I expected five or ten years at the most."

"His fault was that he was too young and weak," Kyoko said. "He came to Japan in 1946 when he was 17. He was young, impressionable, and had no opportunity to develop character in the soldiers' life here. If the Communists starved him for 10 days he probably agreed to say 'yes' to anything they said. But he didn't really mean it. If he had, he wouldn't have come back."

"Soon a name will be selected for the new Baptist College center opposite the campus of Northeast State College here. As a close friend of C. S. Cadwallader Jr., former pastor of College Place Baptist Church, who worked hard to get this student center established, and who is now doing wonderful mission work in Guatemala, I would like to have the new institution named for him. It seems eminently suitable.

"I make this as a suggestion and hope it will be given careful thought for it would be the paying of a well deserved tribute to a leader of the Baptist cause here and abroad.

"Sincerely

"A Close friend of this mission worker."

This is letter writing week. We hope that the desire of the post-office department is carried out faithfully. Letters should be sent to friends and relatives who live away from home, and to men in armed service. A letter at the right time can prove a tremendous stimulus.

Let us cite a really pitiful case. It may serve to cause some who read to remember their almost forgotten parents who are in declining years.

An aged man has come to us several times and with effort has restrained the tears. "Why won't my son write to me?" he asks in despair. Then he told how he had struggled to bring up this boy, educated him and got him ready to earn his own living. The young man learned the printer's trade and today has a well-paying business of his own in a city in Texas.

Now, when he is prosperous, he will answer no etter that his father may write. He spurns him as if there was no relationship whatever. The father has asked Jes' Ramblin' to write the son, whom he used to know well, and tell him his father is very old and feeble. The old age pension is his only support. He has no relatives but this son and that makes it seem that the son should on that score show more attention. But he declines. We tell this in order if there are other such cases, that this case may cause some one to be a bit more thoughtful of his father and mother.

Write those letters by all means! It will be doing a good deed!

Monroyan Elected As Head Of State Group For Blind

SHREVEPORT, Oct. 2 (Special) —Claude M. Guillot, 243 Grayling Lane, Monroe, today was elected president of the Louisiana Progressive Association for the Blind, at the organization's annual convention here. Guillot will succeed Ufemon Segura, New Orleans, who was elected secretary for the group.

Other officers included Pharoah Taylor, vice president; Dr. G. W Selmons, treasurer, and Mrs. Pharoah Taylor, sergeant-at-arms. All are residents of Shreveport.

Seventy-five sightless persons attended the conclave, which was held at the 40 and Eight Club on nearby Cross Lake.

The convention was climaxed with a banquet, at which Congressman Overton Brooks gave the welcoming address. State Representative Welborn Jack was the principal speaker.

The annual affair was concluded with a social hour and dance.

dicated all major points had been solved.

The conference already was in agreement on most major points, but Mendes-France threw it into a turmoil Friday night when he revived his demand for complex and detailed controls on German rearmament.

He asked for a rearmament pool which would control such things as the disposal of American aid, and he proposed that detailed areas be mapped out designating where arms could and could not be produced. The conference which had been proceeding like clockwork went into crisis.

Dulles submitted his compromise proposal Friday night and Mendes - France took it under study. Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak expounded on it Saturday to prohibit the manufacture of atomic weapons in all of Europe.

From there the delegates went on to find their compromise solution.

During the conference the nine nations agreed on Italian and German entry into an expanded Brussels pact and on German entry into NATO.

Both boys were hit by the automobile, but Gipson's injuries did not require hospital treatment. Jones was rushed to the Charity Hospital in a Mulhearn Funeral home ambulance.

The automobile, after striking the youths, continued on down the street. City police and Ouachita Parish sheriff's deputies obtained the name of the alleged driver of the car, and booked him at the police station at 1:23 a.m.

In their report, the officers said Williams admitted hitting the youths.

They said he told them he had been in a fight on Grammont St. and was fleeing from others in the fight when the car struck the boys. He continued on, officers said he told them, because he was "afraid" to stop.

No bond had been set in the case Saturday.

Dr. French said an inquest into the death may be held Monday or Tuesday.

Mrs. Andrews, formerly a nurse at St. Anne's Hospital and the mother of one other child, 5-year-old Patricia, learned today that her twins were joined.

The babies were delivered by Dr. John J. Freeman.

The Andrews twins were kept in an incubator. A hospital spokesman said they were in good condition. "They're feeding fine. Like any ordinary babies."

The births were rare, only about 340 cases of twins joined in any manner having been recorded.

The Andrews twins' connection with each other differs from that of the Brodie twins in a major respect. The Brodies faced in the same direction so they could lie on their backs simultaneously with comfort. The Andrews twins face different ways.

Dredge Worker's Body Recovered From Mississippi

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Oct. 2 (Special) — A 36-year-old dredging outfit employee, missing from here since Tuesday night, was found drowned in the Mississippi river, a quarter of a mile below the Lake Providence landing about 4 p.m. today.

Fermond S. Cheatham, Greenville, Ala., an employee on the Catt, a river dredge, was found floating in the river, by co-workers as they returned to the Lake Providence landing at the completion of the 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. shift today.

Cheatham had been missing since Tuesday night, but fellow workers believed the Alabaman had gone to visit his former wife and three children in Memphis. An investigation revealed, however, that Jack Lewis, local taxi driver, had taken Cheatham to the river landing about 9:30 p.m. Tuesday. The crews on the dredge assembled at the landing for transportation to the dredge.

No other workers were at the landing when Cheatham arrived. Local authorities voiced the opinion that the Alabama man had laid down on a barge at the landing, and while awaiting transportation to the dredge — the boat left at 11 p.m. — went to sleep and rolled into the river.

The body was removed to Catron-Gay Funeral Home, and relatives in Alabama notified of the death.

Cheatham's body was found by members of the crew in which he worked.

3 Children Given Salk Vaccine Are Polio Suspects

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 2 (AP) — Three of the more than 10,000 Mississippi school children participating in a new polio vaccine test are "suspected" victims of the disease.

Dr. A. L. Gray, head of the preventable disease control division of the State Department of Health, said today there is no way of determining on a state level whether the vaccine test "passed" or "failed."

Results of the test which began last April and which include more than 400,000 first, second and third grade children in 44 states will be evaluated and published by the national evaluation center at the University of Michigan by December, Dr. Gray said.

Mississippi's part in the national test centered in three counties, Warren, Jones and Hinds. Second grade children were vaccinated with the new solution and first and third grade children were kept under careful study as a "control" group.

The control group is observed to determine the number of polio cases that would occur normally. The number of polio cases in all three grades will be used to determine the effectiveness of the vaccine.

The three suspects, Dr. Gray said, are under study. Two are "strongly suspected" of having nonparalytic polio and the third is "handled as a polio victim and apparently a paralytic" but tests on all three have not been completed.

Dr. Gray said those three suspected cases do not mean the vaccine test has failed in Mississippi. Many other phases of the test must be considered, he said, such as the number of polio victims among the first and third graders who did not receive the vaccine.

The vaccine would be considered worthwhile, Dr. Gray said, if it is 50 per cent effective. That would mean 50 of every 100 children would become immune to polio.

Most vaccines are acceptable if they are at least 70 per cent effective, he said. Other vaccines and their effectiveness include: Small pox 100 per cent, typhoid fever 90 per cent, diptheria 95 per cent, and whooping cough 75 per cent.

This year has been a fairly bad polio year, Dr. Gray said, adding that 421 cases were reported during the first nine months, considerably more than the 336 total of last year.

But, he said, 1953-54 will not compare with the more than 1,400 cases of polio reported during 1951-52. This year's polio incidence is on the decline, he said, and the next three months should see only about 50 more cases reported.

About half of the polio victims are paralyzed, Dr. Gray said. But he added, polio is called paralytic even if only a little finger or a toe is paralyzed. "Paralytic polio" does not always mean useless legs or arms.

TV Ruins Excuse Of Businessman

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Oct. 2 (AP)—Add hazards of the TV age: A Copenhagen businessman told his wife last week that he was off for an important business conference.

But he happened to be in a picture broadcast later by the government-run television station from a leading restaurant. And she saw it. The camera showed him sitting happily with a girl at a champagne-laden table.

Now his wife has sued for divorce. And he has prepared a suit against the TV staton, claiming violation of his rights as a private citizen.

Father And Son Display Courage After Accident

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 2 (AP)—The 15-year-old son of a Huntington physician accidentally shot his father while squirrel hunting early today — then dragged the doctor half a mile to their parked car and, although he had driven only twice, brought his dad into town.

Dr. Leo H. Christian, 53, underwent surgery at a hospital this morning. His left arm was badly mangled by a blast from a shotgun which discharged while the son, Homer Lee Christian, was stepping over a log.

The father and son were hunting in the Buffalo area of Wayne County when the accident occurred.

Dr. Christian held a cut artery with his right hand and calmly gave his son driving instructions to Huntington. A policeman spotted the car in an ally and dispatched an ambulance to take the doctor to the hospital.

Deer On Loose In West Monroe Object Of Chase

Residents of West Monroe yesterday got in a little deer hunting ahead of the season, and without leaving home.

It all began about 4 p.m. when police received a call that a deer was seen in the vicinity of Breland's, Grocery on Natchitoches street. Officers Bill Pace and David Johnson were sent to investigate.

A few minutes later the animal was reported on the southside of town.

As Chief of Police Caldwell described the incident, "they were the deerest reports we ever received."

When officers Pace and Johnson arrived on the scene they joined other residents in pursuit of the intruder from the wilds. They described the animals route through town as follows:

"He was first seen on Natchitoches street, then crossed the railroad near the C. C. Bell Manufacturing Company, he crossed Coleman street, and was next seen on South Fifth street, where he jumped a picket fence. He continued across the south end of town, scattering a group of small boys—one of whom ran home and announced to his mother that a bull was loose. Then the animal crossed the levee at Mitchell lane, and disappeared."

The officers said they found blood where the buck had jumped the fence, indicating that he had been injured during his excursion through town. However, no one was able to get close enough to determine the extent of injury.

Where the animal came from has not been determined, but one thing is certain—his invasion of civilization created quite a bit of excitement for the old and young alike.

Oil Explosion

"All of a sudden the barges started going off like a string of firecrackers," Dupuis said. "We kicked the Esso Louisiana full astern, snapped all the mooring cables and backed off from the explosion.

Allies To Test Soviet Sincerity On Disarmament

By CHARLES M. MCCANN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 2 —UP— The Western Allies will try to find out next week whether Russia's huge disarmament plan is a propaganda balloon or marks a major change in Soviet policy, it was understood Saturday.

British Chief Delegate Selwyn Lloyd will make the opening move for the Allies in a speech Monday in general debate in the UN assembly.

Well informed sources reported that Lloyd will try to smoke out Soviet Chief Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky on two vital disarmament issues:

1. Whether Russia still insists that nuclear weapons be destroyed at the outset of any disarmament plan.

2. Whether Russia really has any intention of agreeing to any inspection system that would prevent its cheating.

The betting, on the basis of past performances, is that Russia will not agree to let any control agency inspect its arms and nuclear energy facilities.

The argument is that the Kremlin, which has made the Soviet Union a vast prison camp, is not likely to abandon its entire policy of secrecy and permit inspection teams to pry into its armament factories and nuclear energy stations.

Nevertheless, in the search for anything that might stop or slow up the arms race, the United States and British governments have announced that Russia's plan will be given full consideration.

The assembly's steering committee is expected to discuss at a meeting Tuesday both the Soviet disarmament plan and President Eisenhower's "atoms for peace" plan which calls for an international pool of atomic resources for peaceful purposes.

Former Governor Wright To Seek Governor's Post

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 2 (AP) — Former Gov. Fielding Wright, States Rights candidate for vice president in 1948, announced today he will run for governor of Mississippi next summer.

The veteran 59-year-old public official, now an attorney with a lucrative law practice, said, "My campaign will be based on my record of public service for a quarter of a century. I expect to stand or fall on this record."

The 1955 race may be one of the hottest in Mississippi history. Four other candidates already are in the race.

The former governor laughed at the suggestion he might have made a deal with some other candidate to form a ticket with himself as governor and the other man running for lieutenant governor.

". . . No promises will be made except those I honestly believe can be carried out," Wright told newsmen at a conference.

"If the people of Mississippi want results rather than promises which may never be fulfilled, then my record is submitted for your serious consideration.

"It is one that can not be changed. It contains mistakes, but they were honest mistakes, I assure you."

He commented, "some of my friends have been kind enough to ask me if I intended to be a candidate for governor . . . .

"Those seeking my decision comprise only a modest number, and no attempt is made to claim any mass solicitation or that great numbers are trying to draft me to run," he declared.

"However . . . for one reason or another, it is my purpose and intention to offer as a candidate for governor . . . next year and, at the proper time, to formally announre and state my platform."

Wright, national Democratic committeeman from Mississippi, will be opposed by Atty. Gen. J. P. Coleman; Ross Barnett of Jackson; Paul Johnson of Hattiesburg, unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1952, and Mary Cain, fiery editor of the Weekly Summit Sun.

Other candidates may spring up before campaign time.

Coleman already has begun his campaign on a small scale. Others have taken advantage of speaking engagements to let it be known they are running.

Millsaps Class For Retarded Is Ready To Launch

Classwork for retarded children will be initiated with a special teacher at the Millsaps school Monday at 9 a.m. Ike Hamilton president of the Northeast Louisiana Association for Retarded Children, announced yesterday.

The special class, now formed will have six pupils enrolled, ranging up to the age of 11 years, and will be taught by Mrs. Marcus B. Cole, who joins the faculty at Millsaps school Monday.

Hamilton, his wife, and other interested citizens, were instrumental in having the class organized for children who are unable to meet the demands of regular classroom work because of various serious deficiencies. He said other pupils are expected to be enrolled later.

The class is being made possible through the cooperation of the Ouachita parish school board, Hamilton reports.

Mrs. Cole, who will be the instructor, is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons College, Abilene, Tex., and she has done advanced work at North Texas State Teachess college. She has also taught a number of years in Texas and Arkansas public schools, and has recently completed special Louisiana teacher's certificate requirements at Northeast Louisiana State College.

The pupils will be taught much the same as any other group, it is reported, but at a more fundamental, lower elememtary level. They will be taught handwork, numbers, artwork, music, and will be given "reading readiness" preparation for subsequent reading work. In addition, they will be grounded in basic social skills.

Business Gains Volume As Fall Season Arrives

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—Economic signposts this week pointed to a modest spurt in the three remaining months of 1954.

The situation at the end of the third quarter shaped up like this:

Steel production, nudging 69 per cent of capacity, was the highest since mid-June.

The auto industry was emerging from its changeover slump with Chrysler going into production of 1954 models. The construction boom continued at a record clip; contractors predicted building volume for the year would set a new high of 52 billion dollars.

New gains were reported for lumber and paperboard output, department store sales, and volume of consumer credit.

While activity in most lines was still below the peaks of a year ago, sales, production and new business booked were generally on the upbeat. Last year at this time they were mostly on a downward plane.

On the debit side, business loans declined (at latest count they were about two billion dollars less than at the same time last year) and freight carloadings, still 13 per cent under last year, showed no improvement.

The stock market backed down a little from its recent highs. Trading slackened, possibly because brokers and their customers were more interested in the World Series.

The Justice Department's bombshell denunciation of the projected Bethlehem - Youngstown Sheet & Tube merger depressed stocks of the two corporations but had no apparent effect on other companies which have figured recently in merger deals.

Youngstown hinted at a court fight; Bethlehem's Eugene Grace declared, "We are actively exploring what action may properly be taken to make the merger possible." Big question at week's end was what success, if any, the two companies would have in their announced efforts to unite without running afoul of antitrust legislation.

Chrysler made news when its top officials served notice they will try to regain the 20 per cent share the company once held in the U.S. automobile market. About half of Chrysler's business has since been lost to General Motors and Ford.

Also newsworthy was the Pentagon's decision to give Chrysler a 160-million-dollar contract for Patton M48 medium tanks. They'll be assembled at Chrysler's Newark, Del., plant.

Appliance makers rather than auto manufacturers appear to have been chiefly responsible for the recent slow but steady rise in steel production. Automotive demand isn't expected to get into full swing until late this month. Even so, says the trade weekly, Iron Age, new orders are coming in "at a faster pace than had been anticipated."

The Commerce Department reported that manufacturers' sales moved ahead in August, but at a somewhat slower pace than is considered normal for that time of year. Volume of new business booked by manufacturers pushed ahead of the year-ago level for the first time in 12 months. The total — $23,100,000 — was two per cent higher than in August 1953. By contrast, new business written in July was nine per cent under the year-ago figure.

Prices of some foods tumbled. Egg futures price sank to the lowest level in 14 years in a hectic trading session on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange while potato futures prices nosedived in New York.

Department of Agriculture spokesmen said declining prices of eggs, hogs, poultry, livestock, vegetables and soybeans were largely responsible for a two per cent dip in farm income last month. Closer to the consumer front, Borden Co. and General Foods trimmed wholesale prices of instant coffee.

The week brought renewed evidence of optimism among business leaders. J. Spencer Love, president of Burlington Mills, nation's biggest textile maker, said "the low point in the textile depression has passed" and "there are many concrete evidences of the industry having turned the corner."

The tea dumped into the bay during the Boston Tea Party of 1773 came from the Chinese island of Amoy, currently in the news from the Pacific.

Angola Prison's Warden Will Talk To Church Group

Maurice Sigler, warden of Angola State Prison, will be the principal speaker at the man-boy banquet, Monday night, October 4th, at the First Baptist Church, West Monroe, La.

President Joe Harris of the men's Brotherhood reports that tickets are available at the church office and one ticket will admit both man and boy.

The church organization invites any and all to come hear this prominent leader and if the crowd cannot be accommodated in the banquet hall, arrangements have been made to move up into the church auditorium after the meal.

The meal will be served at 7 p. m. and Warden Sigler will address the group at 8 p. m.

More than a trillion kilowatt-hour of electric power will be produced annually in the United States by 1916, experts predict. That's more than double estimated production for this year.

Faith

Whoso putteth his trust in the Lord shall be safe. (Prov. 29:25.)

In nearly every civilization which has been recorded in the annals of the history of mankind, there have been times of trial and tribulation. Following the thesis of Professor Oswald Spengler, each civilization goes through a time of trial before it is finally destroyed.

Today, the Western civilization has passed a "milestone." All indications point to the fact that this is a degenerating civilization. In history, there was never a civilization which successfully made or staged a comeback. From the dawn of time, civilizations have followed the same pattern even as the days and the months of the years which pass by. In the early stages of any civilization, there are signs of energy and development. That era might, as Spengler said, be termed "the Spring" of the civilization.

Going into "summer," the arts, the cultures and the progress of men becomes very evident. Entering into the "fall" or "autumn" of a civilization, men become so wise as to forget themselves. They become languorous and placid. They rest on their laurels. Individual initiative ceases.

Moving into "winter," the life of the civilization and its evidences of strength are gone. There is extensive moral and spiritual decline. Government has by that time passed from a thriving Republic to a dictatorship, into a mobocracy.

Finally, the civilization is destroyed.

The Morning World has pointed to these facts on many an occasion in hopes that the people will realize that this "Communism" they hear so much about is merely an evidence of destruction and a sign on the road into the winter of the Western Civilization.

Here in the Twentieth Century, men have reached an amazing high degree of civilization. The arts and the crafts reached their zenith some fifty years ago, and have since then been on a steady decline. The music reached its peak about the same time, but it also is on a decline. Thus, the Western civilization might be determined as having passed its zenith and "the snows of winter threaten." Spengler said fifty years ago that such was the case.

The Western civilization is sick.

It is demoralized.

Its centers of culture are shattered ruins, ruins brought on by the economic follies of man. Its present leader, the United States, is "shot through" with dissension. The American crime rate is higher than ever recorded in the history of the nation and the moral fiber of the American people is already melting at the fringes. In the core of the nation, there is extensive destruction.

Men have come to believe themselves as all powerful. They have come to regard themselves as the highest epitome of species on the earth. What right has man to believe this? Could God Almighty not have as easily endowed monkeys with such prowess? Could the horses and cattle, and dogs, not be granted the same intelligence?

Man is not responsible for man. God made the human race, humans didn't. God gave the human race brains, hands and ability to progress, man didn't. Now, what has man done with all of this God-given material? He has finally invented a manner in which all that was created can be destroyed.

He has forgotten that it was God in the first place who gave him his everything and he has placed his trust in his fellow man, a most unfortunate decision.

The results of this change are manifold. On the earth today, there is a new religion which believes that man is supreme; that there is or can be, no God. This religion preaches that man's creation, the state is all powerful and supreme. Such a religion is today sweeping the face of the earth in direct defiance of God's will. A surprise would be in store for you, the reader, were you to know how many Americans have come to believe that there is no God, that man is supreme.

Many [illegible] believe that the Solar System exists [illegible] Man's puny efforts are shown in all [illegible] which (for instance) a violent paroxism of nature [illegible] a hurricane comes about and levels entire cities [illegible]

[illegible] Americans. Man is here [illegible] and error period which [illegible] in the afterlife. Man has failed [illegible] world [illegible] has its own miserable problems [illegible] problems will be settled by God.

[illegible] God permits him to do. What man [illegible] him the right and the opportunity to do. [illegible] indicate clearly that men fail when [illegible] they are punished by terrible scourges [illegible]

[illegible] perhaps the next decade, will almost [illegible] the history of the human race, for [illegible] all times to come. If the godless creation, the [illegible] religion which is collectivism and diabolical [illegible] manages to take control of the earth, man will [illegible] punished by God Almighty.

The [illegible] of the past five hundred years are a story of the growth of a civilization. In miniature, the story could be that of mankind. The past is known. Young growth of a new civilization, growth of culture, elimination of all [illegible] into ripe and great civilization and a study [illegible] parts of the human story.

The future, however, there is a great and a marked difference. At least a part of the people recognize that there is a God in Heaven. They can put their faith in Him and through this faith the salvation of degenerating civilization might actually come about.

The deceit, the treachery and the wholesale and brutal murder of entire populations can never be changed by state decrees or by legislators making laws. Only God can change all of that. Faith in God's works and fervent prayer that He will show each person the way to Right may yet save the human race.

At present, the trust is not in God—it is elsewhere.

Thus, the arrow of fate is pointed towards the end of this civilization as indeed, all civilizations ended. A retrenchment, a revamp of ideas and a return to faith in Almighty God is the only answer to the problems of the times.

Man's faith in man alone leads only to destruction.

Formosa Digs In

In the past weeks, the free Chinese under the resolute leadership of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek have continually bombarded the "junk fleets" even now preparing for an onslaught on either Quemoy or maybe even, Formosa itself.

The Morning World has received numerous reports from that sector of the world which indicate that the Communists might stage some type of attack on either bastion before the November elections here in the United States. General Chennault, in his first communique to this newspaper on returning to Formosa, discounts a belief that Formosa itself might be assaulted, but states that it is almost certain that the island will be subjected to bombing by Red aircraft.

Chennault states that the National government is busy evacuating Taipeh, the capitol, and preparing for any attacks which might be made.

In the meantime, the American government's position as regards Quemoy is not clear. On one hand, it is reported that the United States will "defend the Republic of China" and on the other, one hears that the Navy will be pulled out of the straits of Formosa in the event of an attack. The American wire services are not giving as clear a picture of the situation as well they might.

In a late edition of the "China Post" (which is received here at the Morning World) the Chinese government has stated that it does not want Americans fighting Chinese as no good could possibly come of it. This fact, the Morning World has long stated. However, the Chinese National government does need supplies in a desperate manner.

The Chinese people are friends of this nation. Why they still are is something this and several other newspapers cannot understand after the base betrayal of China by the United States and its infested government, but the fact reported to this newspaper from behind the "Bamboo Curtain" inside China indicates that such is still amazingly the case.

The situation is further complicated by a new twist of events. One sees leftists and "fellow travelers" now openly desiring war with China. Not a defense or a salvation of the Chiang government, but merely war with Red China. This is a Communist goal. The Russians fervently desire a war between the U. S. and Red China. Chiang is moving heaven and earth to prevent such a thing.

If he can be supplied with enough aircraft and ammunition of an offensive nature so as to pose a threat to the Soviet Chinese, as well as being supplied with the latest defense type fighters, the Chinese Communists will hardly tackle him at this point.

The situation in Asia is most critical.

The month of October will be a dangerous month from all appearances. In any case, the island bastion of Formosa is now digging in for whatever eventuality may come about.

'The Committee For An Effective Congress'

In the solar system of Marxian organizations in the United States, there is the "Committee For An Effective Congress." This organization is greatly responsible for the past two inquisitions of Senator McCarthy.

The Morning World has compiled a sizeable file on this organization, its leaders and their backgrounds. It works in constant cooperation with the "Citizens For Eisenhower" in the destruction of the Republican party.

The Morning World believes that the Senate should begin an immediate investigation into the background of the organization and its leaders. The control of the "Citizens For Eisenhower" group should also bear investigation and that organization should tell the American people whether one of its operators, a man named Nuveen has been sent to Illinois to further the political destruction of Republican Senate Candidate Joe Meek.

Nuveen has been apparently sent to Illinois to reorganize the "Citizens For Eisenhower" in a destruction program for candidate Meek.

It is believed that the President and his administration owes it to the nation to bring forth the facts about the secret government operating the nation behind the scenes and controlling the United States and its domestic and foreign policies behind an Iron Curtain of non-information.

Maybe, as Vice-President Nixon said in a GOP rally in Chicago, "perhaps we are using the wrong approach [illegible] Joe McCarthy and win the election."

Until the real powers behind the powers are revealed, there is not a way in the world for the American people to get to the bottom of the disease which has penetrated the nation. An immediate investigation is needed.

Cotton—A Money Crop —

Monroe, La.

Editor, News-Star-World:

When I mention the name of the cotton farmer I mean to include all those who produce cotton for a money crop.

We have all noticed of late in our newspapers quite a few interesting articles on this subject and I would conclude that most of these fine letters are from people that produce cotton and are interested in the cotton farmers.

We all know that cotton affords the farmers their money crop. If the cotton farmers fail to produce cotton there just isn't any money in circulation. This situation is being felt this fall where the cotton crop is about 50 per cent short.

It costs more money these days to produce cotton than it did years ago. It is true that one man with a tractor can easily cultivate forty acres of cotton, but the tractor costs money and everything that goes with the tractor costs money. The cotton seed costs money and the high living cost enters into the picture; therefore all these things considered makes it costly to produce a bale of cotton.

To make a successful farmer you must know how to farm. To know how to farm you should be sent to farmers schools that teach all phases of successful farming. Just buy a farm and get out on it does not mean that you know how to farm. For best results, when you have studied in school, you should get out and do actual farm work. To be taught farming from theoretical knowledge without the actual practice is time wasted. How many people know how to make a farm pay off? We think if we do not own several hundreds of acres, we can't make a living on a farm. It is not the amount of acres, but the "know how" that pays off. Some people can make a better living on ten acres than others with forty acres. Many in this country are what are called "land poor" in that they own too much land.

The United States this year has experienced one of the worst droughts in many years. It has hit the farmers hard and they will need financial aid to make it through the winter and sprng and to get started off for another year. The government must come to the aid of these farmers if they are to survive.

We must comb the markets of the world for our products. The government can't keep on advancing money to farmers when that money runs into millions of dollars yearly. That is what all farmers are up against, under these rigged crop supported prices. Your present Republican administration stands for this kind of farm program. How do you like it?

Favors Lewd Comic Books

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

With great interest, I have watched the progress of your fight against the so-called "lewd and lascivious" comic books. As the first amendment of the Constitution guarantees us freedom of the press, I find it hard to picture one form of the "press" hurting another form. These publications have just as much right to run down your newspaper, as you have to say such things about them. And I happen to know of one group (the E. C. group) who would do just this. This same group, the E. C., which you have so degraded pictorially and editorially are also publishers of educational comics, and Bible-story comics, much the same as you publish in your Sunday comic section. I say that to run down one of these publications is to degrade them all. The income that E. C. gets from these books makes it possible for them to publish these wonderful Biblical and historical works. Therefore, while doing no harm, these magazines actually help to educate our children in an inspired way.

I expect, very soon, I will find a letter in your column debunking the "so-called" humor magazines also published by some of these companies. I predict that this letter will be pure rot, and that the critic will hardly have given a glance at the inside of one of these gems of satire.

I think that as time goes on, you will receive more letters from conscientious citizens like myself, who realize the position of these magazines, and will demand that they be given their rightful place.

The Cows Come First

Winnsboro, La.

Editor Morning World:

I have a question that I've been trying to get answered. I wonder if some of your readers could help me?

I am a share cropper. And like hundreds of others in our land of plenty, due to the drough' situation, I am wondering how we are going to exist thru the winter. Lots of us never made enough cotton to pay our debt and the few that were fortunate to do so had nothing left to buy winter rations. There is no work to be had, our land lords are squeezing their pocket books so we can't get anything from them. What are we going to do?

I wrote our Governor and Senators and all I could get out of them was that they passed a bill to help our land lords but not a thing for the ones that really need it. They are going to see that the Big Stock Owners, the ones that can provide for themselves, get help in filling their cows' stomachs but it doesn't matter about our stomachs—just let it stay empty. We're not as good as cows.

This situation is more serious than you think.

CLARENCE B. JONES

Juvenile Delinquency

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

We must admit that juvenile delinquency is increasing. Are children worse now than years previously or is our government worse? I have been reading what the "leaders" in this crusade have offered as a solution and as yet they have offered nothing that will correct this situation. Some say that boys and girls that are bad and hate become a nuisance to society should be put in homes and contended to stay there, being cared for by society and the government.

I believe to a very large extent that parents are to blame for their children's behavior, by not setting the right kind of example for them. The Bible sets many examples people should be taught to follow. It says that bending the twig while it's young will dictate the way it will grow. The great word of God also says, so a man thinketh in his heart, so is the man. In most homes you can find lurid criminal literature, which could be the cause of so much crime by our teenagers.

We claim to be a Christian nation, to believe in God and his teachings. Why don't we try to live like Christ? Jesus in all his teachings never advocated violence. Why should we? The 'Sermon on the Mount' has a lesson in it for each of us. It would do us all good to get that dusty Bible down from the shelf and study it. It may bring a big change in your life.

I am sure no citizen would approve of dope peddlers selling dope to their child. Then why do they permit the reading of horror, criminal and obscene literature in the homes? It is reported that there were over 14,000,000 comic books sold in the U. S. last year. The nation and state legislature should pass laws prohibiting the publishing of such books. This would do away with this 'dirty' traffic and help to prevent criminal inclinations in our children. If we love a Christian nation, we must work for the cause that will keep it that way.

A Lot Of 'Iffy' Facts

Monroe, La.

Editor Morning World:

I have been a fairly constant reader and observer of leading newspaper editorial comments for almost seventy 70 years, beginning with the editorials of Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal, whose editorials, by-the-way were sought by many other leading daily and weekly publications of both political parties and printed in their respective publications twenty-four hours in advance of their appearance in the Courier-Journal.

And, in all of the splendid editorials and in all other editorials which I have been privileged to read down through the years to now, I do not recall even one that came anywhere near reaching the new low in the cesspool of political mud slinging and muck that you reached in the charges made in your morning world editorial of September 25, 1954, against the man you doubtless refer to as Adlai E. Stevenson or no other person that your inability to cope with his forthright logical views and statesmanship.

I intend to vindicate my self or any other same person possessed with a viewpoint and outlook you seem to have. I am forced to the conclusion that you cannot be other than one of the most miserable and deluded human beings in these United States.

This conclusion is further supported by your statement in the Morning World of Sunday September 26, 1954 that you were not a member of either of the two major political parties of the United States. That is properly your right and privilege but when you step out of the two major parties there remains only the ideologies to embrace—communism nazism and fascism—all three having one and the same goal—dictatorship.

I refrain from accusing you of having any connection with any of these ideologies, but in reading scores and scores of your editorials dealing with politics, politicians, and government, in which you often boast of dealing only in facts and truths; I find that at least eighty to ninety per cent of these boasted "facts" and "truths," have no source of verified or factual evidence other than your constant resort to and reliance on the notorious Russian technique of catchy phrases—the same ones that Jacob Malik and Andrei Y. Vishinsky used almost daily to spread the big lie about the United States in the United Nations, some of which are "Everybody knows, etc.:

"It is a well known fact"; "it is common knowledge, etc."; "I have been informed by a reliable source. These and many others together with a lot of conclusions you call "facts" based on nothing but "ifs"—a lot of "iffy facts".

Now, before closing, I am compelled to say to you that, regardless of politics, that as an American citizen, which I am very proud to be; I resent your accusations that the "United States, seen in its true light, is a despicable crawling gutter rat." For this ruthless, unwarranted attack, you owe the American people an apology. Its the least you can do.

W. N. BIRD

(Editor's note: Reprinted below is the paragraph in its entirety from which the last statement was taken.)

"Maybe the people all over Asia who formerly looked with awe and great respect to the United States, (a nation with a hundred year record of fairness and decency in the Orient), should see the U. S. in its real light, that of a despicable, crawling gutter rat, snivveling before the Communist masters, pleading for a "peace" at any price so that fatter rodents at home can collect new fortunes at the price of more and yet more American suffering, blood and life."

Germans Brought Communism To U. S. 100 Years Ago

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I do not mean to dispute a word that you said. I read all of your editorials, and am generally in accord with you. In your editorial, Sept. 29, you made an excellent analysis of the general movement of political subversion in the United States. The only slip that you made was in timing its induction into the United States. Your article reads, in part, "They don't realize the fact that here in the United States, there is actually a nation within a nation of espionage agents, followers of an alien philosophy which has come to this nation in the past fifty years." I am sorry to say that you hit your time table exactly half way. The "Encyclopedia" of American politics show that this infernal debauchery "communism" was introduced, and inducted into politics, economics, and sociology in the United States more than a hundred years ago, by Germans.

After the German revolution in 1848 led by Karl Marx and Frederick Engels, hundreds of thousands of German refugees flocked to the United States bringing with them the manifesto of communism. They just began their activities in labor unions and social groups. Their principal leaders were Joseph Weydemeyer, Adolf Douai, Friedrich Sorge, A. Jacobi, Hermann Meyer, and Robert Rosa, who were political refugees that had been close co-workers with Marx and Engels in the German Revolution of 1848. They made their debut in politics in 1852 in the abolition of slavery. They collaborated with all anti-slavery forces and was a prime factor in the foundation of the Republican party. They declared that "Communists always take with the Bourgeoisie when-ever it acts in a revolutionary way." This declaration is a beacon light that reflects thousands of ways that the commies infiltrate public life and public affairs. It answers many questions and solves many problems that arises in governmental affairs. They work both sides at the same time to create derision.

Communism was born in northern [illegible]. As a more than two hundred years ago. The prime objective was liberation from Monarchial slavery and overthrow of capitalist imperialism. It has spread from country to country until it has about enveloped the world. The United States is its last victim, and they have about made a finished job here. They have such a stranglehold, I don't think we will ever be able to break it.

State's Handling Of Surpluses Not Sound, Auditor Allison Kolb Says

By JAMES McLEAN

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Louisiana operates a fiscal setup much like a man living above his salary who keeps dipping into his savings account—always hoping for a salary raise.

"If the salary raise appears," said State Auditor Allison Kolb, "as it always has in recent years of prosperity for Louisiana, then there is no danger.

"The danger arises when there is any leveling off in state income."

Kolb, whose business it is to remind local governments when their financial affairs aren't handled according to the book, has a new idea for straightening out state government finances.

To get down to the problem, at the beginning of the 1954-55 fiscal year last July 1 Louisiana had a surplus in state funds of about 56.5 million dollars. At the end of the two-year fiscal period of 1954-56, the surplus total will fall to a mere 5.5 million—down 51 million dollars.

The reason? The administration and the Legislature grabbed at the various surplus funds for a variety of special needs.

"All of which means during the present two-year fiscal period ending in 1956 we will have spent 51 million dollars more than our anticipated revenues," Kolb explained.

"The best budgeting calls for all current government expenses to be paid out of anticipated revenues. Surplus money should be used only for retiring state debt or on such non-recurring items as capital outlay for public construction work."

Record offshore oil leasing is pulling the state out of any financial dangers right now, but that won't continue many months.

While it will have to be a matter for the next administration and Legislature to consider, Kolb proposes a constitutional amendment that would freeze the state general fund surplus, reserving it only for debt retirement or public improvement projects.

"What this will amount to is making the executive and legislative branches wait until the revenues are in sight before increasing state spending," Kolb said.

The state auditor, a leader in the administration of Gov. Robert Kennon, insists the present administration and Legislature are no different than others in chopping away at surplus funds.

"These surpluses always have been a pressure target in every Legislature including the last one," he said, "and every Legislature, including the last one, has succumbed to this pressure.

"Every Legislature is going to spend all the money it can get its hands on—let's be practical about that point."

Kolb said the suggestion for a constitutional amendment would give the state a safer fiscal foundation. "The amendment would curb political pressure for overspending on current government operations."

While Kolb didn't go into the 90 million dollars in two major bond issues of the last session, pushed by the Kennon administration, he commented that the history of Louisiana fiscal affairs always has been one of "consistently borrowing money for capital outlay.

"If the surpluses that accumulated since World War Two had been used only for debt retirement and capital outlay—we easily could have been free of debt and provided for much of our public construction work."

Kolb said budgeting surplus funds for current government expenses "builds up a high level of operating expenditures.

"And if the revenues do not constantly increase in succeeding years, the state will have to curtail its services, boost taxes or operate in the red—and our constitution bans operating in the red."

What he means is that because of the 51 million in surplus funds taken for government operations during 1954-56, the state has built up a standard of government living that will stumble after the two years are up—unless state revenues keep rising.

Higher taxes or a cut in state services—could be the only answer.

PRELIMINARIES — Recipe testing activities by many youthful aspirants after Ouachita Valley Fair food show awards, have undoubtedly brought many offers of help from hungry sideline judges.

Farm Kitchens Become Testing Labs For Fair

Some of the delightful aromas that have been emanating from farm kitchens around the parish during the past few days are the result of ambitious young ladies practicing preparation of various food specialities which they hope will bring them top prizes in the junior division of the Ouachita Valley Fair in West Monroe next week.

Mrs. Audrey Dawson, associate home demonstration agent, is expecting an outstanding 4-H girls showing in baking competition. Many of the girls have been working on perfecting recipes given them recently, she said.

Recipes for food articles that can be exhibited have been circulated among the club girls, and they cover a broad range, including such savory items as sweet potatoes -- candied, and in pies and pones — corn breads, candies, and a new class — cherry pies.

The latter category was added this year because there is a state contest later in the season in cherry pie baking. Sylvia Boudreaux of the Woodlawn community, and student of West Monroe High School, placed second in the last state cherry pie making competition.

This success has inspired a number of parish 4-H'ers to start developing their pie making abilities.

Many club girls have called at the office of the associate home demonstration agent to ask for special recipes for foods they would like to enter at the fair.

Of course, in addition to the baked goods department, there will be canned foods competition in which the girls may compete. There is no indication how large the participation in this phase of the show will be, since weather elements worked against fruit and vegetable production. A good showing is expected, however.

The girls will also be in the thick of competition with dairy and beef animals in the junior livestock division, and with chickens in the junior poultry show. Mrs. Dawson said.

Strong competition is in prospect in the poultry show she said. Last fall, Louisiana State University poultry specialist, Clyde Ingram, who served as judge, said that the parish show was one of the best in the state.

Ten 4-H club members who are participants in poultry chain projects will be eligible for additional premium money. The Sears Foundation is putting up $80 for supplementary awards for them.

Adding to the poultry show will be the new barn in which it will be located, providing more space and better ventilation for the birds.

Clothing and home improvement articles will also claim a great deal of attention from the club girls, Mrs. Dawson related.

First place exhibits in the canning, poultry, clothing and home improvement classes will be sent to the state fair at Shreveport to compete.

In order that baked goods will be fresh and at the peak of appearance, Mrs. Dawson said that they would be baked only a short time before they are brought to the fair for judging.

Four-H workers and judges were also announced yesterday by Mrs. Dawson. Clyde Ingram, L. S. U. poultry specialist will judge the junior poultry show exhibits. Mrs. Maxine Reeves, home demonstration agent in LaSalle parish will judge junior canning.

Judge of girls' clothing and home improvement articles will be Twin Cities associate demonstration agent, Mrs. Mildred Swift, while Miss Thomas, home service representative of United Gas will judge junior baking.

In charge of registration for all Junior exhibits will be Mrs. Hilton Owens, and Mrs. Elaine Newton. In charge of girls clothing and canning will be Mrs. J. H. Kilpatrick, Mrs. Lucille Joyner; girls baking officials, Mrs. Grace Granberry, Mrs. C. K. Brooks; poultry, Mrs. Bill Dunn and Mrs. A. R. Whitlock.

Agencies Ready For Drouth Feed Grain Aid Bids

According to Berry W. Wilson, Jr., county supervisor for the farmers home administration in Ouachita parish, applications to obtain grain through the government drouth relief program may be made by eligible farmers and stockmen at the local administration's office, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, and the county agent's office.

The county committee of the farmers home administration will determine eligibility of all applicants.

Extent of government aid will be purchase orders, issued to approved applicants, valued at $1.00 per hundred weight which will be used as part payment in the purchase of grain feed. At the present time hay purchases are not authorized.

The following parishes in northeast Louisiana have been designated as eligible for this drouth relief assistance — Caldwell, Catahoula, Concordia, East Carroll, Franklin, La Salle, Lincoln, Madison, Morehouse, Richland, Tensas, Union and West Carroll.

Navy 'Dog Tag' Changes Color To Warn Wearer Of Exposure To Atomic Rays

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Navy has developed a "dog tag" locket of glass which changes color and warns the wearer when he has been exposed to atomic radiation.

It said the small and simple little gadget already has been used "for monitoring personnel against an overdose of radiation of nuclear weapons"—presumably during tests at the Marshall Islands and Nevada proving grounds.

The Navy said the locket is of use not only for personnel safety but also as a "low-cost, easy-to-use device" for measuring the amount of high intensity of radiation required in the pasteurization or sterilization of food and drugs.

Dr. James H. Schulman of the Naval Research Laboratory discovered that normally colorless glass containing a small amount of silver turned orange under fluorescent or "black light," after it had been exposed to X-ray or gamma radiations. The intensity of flourescence was found to coincide with the intensity of radiation.

When used for personnel safety monitoring, the dog tag meter registers a radiation range of from 10 to 600 roentgens, (the measurement of the dosage of radiaton over a specified time, in which 10 would be safe, 600 lethal.)

The Navy said the silver-activated phosphate glass is being pictured by the Bureau of Ships and by the Air Force for military personnel use, and that the Federal Civil Defense Administration has "also followed the development with a great deal of interest."

The Navy said "satisfactory results have been obtained from exposure to radiation from radioactive isotopes, such as Cobalt 60," from waste fission products, and from high voltage electron beams produced by practice accelerators."

Cobalt 60 becomes extremely radioactive when subjected to bombardment. It has been mentioned in speculation as the ingredient which would be mixed with the components of a hydrogen bomb to produce the so-called "C" bomb which would spread deadly contamination, lingering for months or years, over huge geographical areas.

Patterson To Be A Candidate For Attorney General

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Assistant Atty. Gen. Joe T. Patterson announced today he will run for the office of attorney general in next summer's elections.

The 47-year-old assistant to Atty. Gen. J. P. Coleman will seek the post Coleman is vacating to run for governor.

The 47-year-old Patterson handles the state's criminal cases, appearing frequently before the State Supreme Court.

He said he will make his formal announcement at the opening of Circuit Court in Tippah County early in January. His father served the district as district attorney for 10 years.

Patterson, a veteran of the Legislature, was appointed assistant attorney general by the late Atty. Gen. Greek L. Rice in 1947.

He served two terms in the state House of Representatives, 1932—36 and 1940-44.

He left the Legslature in 1912, two years before his term was up, to enlist in the Army and returned from service in 1945.

Patterson is the first man to announce he will seek the post being vacated by Coleman.

Wonder how long it will be before some city slicker figures out that juvenile delinquency varies in inverse ratio to the number of woodsheds.

Adm. Byrd Reveals Plans For American Expedition To Anarctic In December

BOSTON, Oct. 2 —UP— Rear Admiral Richard Evalyn Byrd disclosed Saturday that he had been named "technical adviser" to the new United States Antarctic expedition, which sails from this port "about Dec. 1."

"I've been carrying on a lonely campaign for American interest in that great continent and now, finally, our government has real interest in the Antarctic," Byrd said.

He said the ship that would make the trip would be the icebreaker Atka, a Navy vessel now stationed in Boston, just back from the Arctic.

Comdr. Glenn Jacobson, skipper of the Atka, said he had been given "no official word" about the trip to the far south.

The Atka has been north every year for the past several years aiding Navy research.

Jacobson is a resident of Seattle, Wash.

Byrd hinted that the new trip was just the first of several new American expeditions, first since a 1947 exploration party.

"This will be a reconnaissance, as I see it. The only change I wish we'd make in plans is to have some planes along," Byrd said.

"Here we have a vast continent —as big as the United States and Europe combined. We haven't made any territorial claims and we haven't recognized anyone else's. And this continent, mind you has unlimited coal resources —and maybe uranium."

Byrd said that at present there was an Australian expedition exploring the continent that surrounds the South Pole.

"The Norwegians, French and British had a trip down there but I understand they are no longer there. They may be planning a new trip when the Antarctic summer season begins, early in December," he said.

Byrd's name long has been linked with the history of both Arctic and Antarctic expeditions—and he was a pioneer in early aviation.

He headed previous expeditions to the Antarctic in 1928, 1934, and 1939 as well as his 1947 trip.

During 1926 Byrd flew over the North Pole and in 1927 and 1929 he flew over the South Pole.

During his Antarctic expeditions, he mapped more than a million square miles of territory and set up the famed settlement at Little America.

In all, there were 763 accidents during that time, and 129 persons injured. Of the injured, 22 were pedestrians, 96 passengers in automobiles which collided with other motor vehicles, one a passenger in a car which collided with a train, three were on bicycles, three were in cars which collided with fixed objects, one was injured in an overturned motor vehicle, and three were injured in other non-collision motor vehicle accidents.

LSU Bond Issue Of $850,000 To Be Sold Dec. 4

BATON ROUGE (AP)—The Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors today set Dec. 4 for acceptance of bids on the sale of $850,000 in building bonds to expand women's dormitory facilities.

The 25-year bonds, callable in 1960, will be financed by dormitory room rents and other fees and will not carry the full faith and credit of the state.

In other action the board:

1. Accepted $283,213 in gifts and grants.

2. Decided to go to New Orleans Nov. 26 to attend dedication of the new 3.5 million dollar addition to the medical school.

3. Voted to dispense with an independent audit of the school's books this year after President Troy Middleton said a check by the state auditor was required by law and the independent audit an added expense which cost the school $15,000 last year.

4. Increased general extension fees from $5 to $7.50 per semester, and laboratory school fees from $12.50 to $15 per semester in the elementary division and $14 to $17.50 in the university high school.

Billy Graham's Revival To Open In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2 (AP) — Thousands will crowd into two stadiums here tomorrow for religious meetings that include a Marian Year mass and the first of Billy Graham's 26 revival sessions.

Graham and his four-week crusade against sin are expected to attract overflow crowds to Pelican Stadium, where seating capacity has been increased to 16,000.

The 35-year-old Baptist minister today outlined his campaign. "I'm going to preach from the Bible and let the chips fall where they may," he said.

"Of course, I'll preach against the lying, immorality and other sins condemned by the Bible," the famed crusader added.

He told newsmen he expected a religious revival in New Orleans.

At the 80,000-capacity Tulane Stadium, New Orleans Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel will mark the beginning of a month of special Catholic devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary.

The archbishop will celebrate the city's first outdoor evening mass. Louisiana and Mississippi groups are expected to join New Orleans worshippers in the ceremonies.

This year was proclaimed Marian Year by Pope Pius XII. It celebrates the 100th anniversary of the dogma of the Immaculate Conception.

In 1854, Pope Pius IX made it a matter of faith that Catholics believe Mary, the mother of Christ, was conceived without original sin.

Graham came to New Orleans yesterday from his Montreat, N.C. home, where he vacationed after his Nashville, Tenn., crusade.

He said his New Orleans crusade would be for all faiths — Catholic, Jewish and Protestant.

12-Year-Old Who Fought Police In Gun Battle Is Psychopath, Records Say

COLORADO SPRINGS, (AP) — A pleasant faced, blond lad of 12 years—known to authorities here as a "post-encepathalitic psychopath"—waited in county jail today while those same official puzzled how to teach him not to break the law.

Yesterday, Travis Wisenberg held off a dozen police with a 90-minute barrage of about 50 pistol shots from a bushy mountainside near Manitou Springs, Colo., just west of here.

He had been discovered by a patrolman as he seemingly was preparing to steal a pickup truck. When he started firing the policeman called for reinforcements.

The long medical term was attached to Travis by the Child Guidance Center here. He has a police record including armed robbery, arson, burglary, auto theft and an earlier gun fight with officers.

He has been sentenced in the past to the Colorado State Industrial School, from which he was released only three months ago.

The courts cannot commit him to the State Mental Hospital because he is not insane, although psychiatrists call him a psychopath. Their tests at Colorado Psychopathic Hospital in Denver found he has brain damage which causes the criminal acts.

As for the boy, he's sure he will be "sent up" to the State penitentiary.

"I've always been on the losing side," said the child who during yesterday's gun battle kept yelling "I hate cops."

He said the shooting started by accident. The first shot from his .32 caliber automatic went off accidentally, he told police. "You can shoot that thing with a feather," he explained.

The scene was near a major east-west highway. An estimated 500 persons gathered to watch the boy hold off police. From the crowd his mother called to him to come down.

"I'll come down fighting," he yelled back.

Another time he threatened to jump off a 50-foot cliff on the mountain side. The officers surrounding him, on orders not to shoot to hit the boy, fired only a few shots into the air and threw pebbles until he ran out of ammunition. Then they moved in and caught the struggling 4-foot 10-inch 105-pounder.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A thief broke a window screen on an office building, reached in, and grabbed for valuables. All he got, the Stanford Research Institute reported, was a notebook of smog control records — "flowmeter Calibration charts."

School Integration Big Problem In New Session Of U. S. Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP) —The Supreme Court opens a new term Monday, faced with the problem of finding a way to put into effect its decision against racial segregation in public schools.

Chief Justice Warren and his eight associate justices, back from summer vacations, will be confronted with a docket of about 400 cases. But the No. 1 issue will be how to accomplish desegregation.

In an unusual pre-term conference the court reached unanimous agreement that the week of Dec. 6 be set aside for hearing further arguments and reports on the school racial question. This was the earliest time available on the court's argument schedule.

Both sides in segregation cases from Virginia, South Carolina, Kansas, Delaware and The District of Columbia will have one hour each to present followup arguments for and against the court's unanimous decision last May 17 that their school segregation practices are unconstitutional.

In addition, North Carolina, Arkansas, Texas, Florida, Maryland, Tennessee and Oklahoma have permission to present arguments if they wish, and Atty. Gen. Brownell is expected to argue for an hour. This adds up to a possible 18 hours, or more than four afternoons of legal debate.

The Topeka, Kan., Board of Education—defendant in the Kansas case—has informed the high tribunal there is no need for further court action in its situation because desegregation is advancing "as rapidly as is practicable." Segregation in Topeka schools will be terminated by September, 1955 "with full public cooperation and acceptance by white and Negro pupils, teachers and parents," the board said.

Desegregation also is advancing rapidly in District of Columbia schools. In Delaware, strong opposition to mixing Negroes and Virginia and South Carolina appear to be standing firm in their opposiston to mixing Negroes and whites in schools.

All these states and the District of Columbia have until Nov. 15 to file briefs, preliminary to the December arguments.

Fixing of the Dec. 6 date provided an interesting coincidence, since it meant that the court for the third December in three straight years is giving its longest argument sessions to the segregation problem.

In December 1952—during the regime of the late Chief Justice Vinson—the court heard arguments on the constitutional issue itself. It was unable to reach a decision then. In December 1953—in the first year of Chief Justice Warren's tenure—the court heard more arguments dealing with the intent of the framers and ratifiers of the Constitution's 14th Amendment.

In the further arguments next December, the court wants lawyers to discuss whether segregation should be ordered abolished "forthwith" or by a gradual transition.

It also wants to hear discussion on whether the five cases on which it ruled last May should be sent back to federal district courts, with instructions to formulate orders for the most equitable method of carrying out the end of segregation locally.

The high court's final ruling and method and timing of desegregation could come some time early in the new year. But some lawyers believe the justices will take time to discuss the situation thoroughly during their conferences, so that the decision may not be handed down until about the close of the present school term.

Two new appeals in racial cases filed during the summer ask the court to strike down on Alabama law banning marriage of Negroes and whites, and to abolish a requirement that Negro lawyers and litigants sit at a special table in the Harris County, Tex. Law Library.

Another new appeal asks the high tribunal to overturn a decision by the New Jersey Supreme Court that free Bibles may not be distributed to children in the state's public schools.

A second round of attack on state "fair trade" laws, and the federal McGuire act which aids them, is made in four cases appealed by retailers in New York City and Newark, N.J. The retailers claim the right to sell items below minimum prices fixed by manufacturers under state "fair trade" laws.

The government appealed a decision by a federal court in Delaware that the Du Pont Co. has not monopolized the cellophane business in violation of the antitrust laws.

Twenty-seven states in "friend of the court" briefs supported Pennsylvania in asking the high tribunal to reinstate conviction of Steve Nelson, a Communist party leader in Western Pennsylvania. He was convicted of violating the Pennsylvania Sedition Act, but the Pennsylvania Supreme Court set aside the conviction. It said sedition against the United States was a federal offense that had to be prosecuted in federal courts only.

The court also is asked to overturn a decision that a discharged war veteran may be arrested by military authorities and taken abroad to face court-martial on charges that he committed a crime while in the armed services. This appeal is by former Air Force Sgt. Robert W. Toth, a Pittsburgh steel worker who was accused in connection with the slaying of a South Korean civilian.

On Oct. 11 and subsequent Mondays, the Supreme Court will make known whether it will grant hearings on these and other appeals filed during the summer months. Beginning Oct. 11, the court will hear cases which during the last term were accepted for review.

The justices have agreed to review lower court decisions that the legitimate theater business and professional boxing are not within the scope of the antitrust laws; that an Iowa private cemetery may not be sued for refusing to permit burial of an American Indian killed in the Korean War; that a Yonkers, N.Y., school house need not be opened for a public forum sponsored by a peace committee.

Other appeals scheduled for early argument include three filed by Julius Emspak, an official of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America; Thomas Quinn, an organizer for the union, and Philip Bart, general manager of the Communist paper "The Daily Worker." They were charged with contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions asked by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Each appeal cites the constitutional guarantee that no one may be compelled to testify against himself.

HERO AND SISTER — Distraught Lee Newton, 3, (left), holds the hand of her big brother, William, 4, in a Tocoma, Wash., hospital after the boy, his arm broken in 2 places, heroically climbed from an auto after it plunged 40 feet over a cliff into icy Puget Sound and summoned help for his sister. Despite his broken arm he waded through deep water, over piles of drift wood and up a steep path. The children, both reported recovering, were alone in the car when its brakes apparently slipped, plunging them over the cliff. The nurse is Florence Rehwinkel. (AP Wirephoto)

Most Grains Firm In Week's Trading

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (AP) — Most grains scored small advances on the Board of Trade this week, corn being an exception to the higher trend. Dealings were slow in the forepart of the week but picked up a little speed in the last two days.

Largest gains were made by rye, partly reflecting the thin market which exists in that cereal. Soybeans were next to rye in the extent of their gains after getting off to a poor start on Monday. Oats closed the week strong.

Wheat finished unchanged to ¾ higher for the week, corn 1⅛-1¾ lowers, oats ¾-1½ higher, rye 2¾-4¼ higher, soybeans 2 to 3 cents higher and lard 7 cents lower to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher.

3-Act Comedy Is Billed By Northeast Players

"The Great Big Doorstep," a comedy in three acts by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, has been selected as the first production of the season by the Northeast Players. It will be presented November 4 and 5, at 8 p.m. in Brown auditorium.

The play is based on a novel by that title and written by E. P. O'Donnell, a Louisianian, who was a resident of New Orleans at the time of his death a few years go.

George C. Brian, in charge of the production, chose "The Great Big Doorstep" for its significance in plans which are being completed for the bi-centennial celebration of the displacement of the Acadians from Nova Scotia and their subsequent arrival in south Louisiana in 1755. The comedy has been performed almost everywhere in the state except Monroe, Brian explained, and "It should be of great interest since it deals with Louisiaians."

The persons thus far named for the cast and their roles include Barbara Peters as Evvie Crochet; Sandra McAdams, as Topal Crochet; Alice Montgomery, Mrs. Crochet; Paula Burford, Elna Crochet; Anita Rickerson, Fleece Crochet; Donald McGough, Arthur Crochet; James Russell, Mr. Tobin; Bob Oldenburg, Commodore.

Terri Fields, Mrs. Dupre; Emmett Smith, Tayo Delacroix; Glenn Bell, Dewey Crochet, and Faye Solomon as Mrs. Beaumont Crochet.

The story itself, set in the delta area of the state, concerns a poor family, the Crochets, who find a magnificent doorstep floating down the Mississippi river. They place the doorstep in front of their shanty and immediately begin trying to live up to its social significance, at the same time dreaming of a beautiful home of their own to match it. Subsequently the family learns of a house being sold at sixty dollars for taxes, and a suitor of one of the daughters offers to advance the money. However, he is attacked by another of the girl's gentleman friends and is badly injured.

The Crochets then turn to the father's brother, a prosperous river captain, for assistance. He "graciously" presents them with a check for the amount but the check bounces, after the family is packed and ready to leave. The miraculous way in which they finally obtain their new home adds spice to the comedy which is reportedly replete with humor, pathos and beauty.

Soviet Move To Kill New Arms Pact Expected

WASHINGTON, Oct 2 —UP— U. S. diplomats predicted Saturday that Russia may make a dramatic new move aimed at killing any Allied agreement to re-arm Western Germany.

Such a move probably depends on how solid the Western position appears to be when results of the nine-power London conference are known. The stronger the Allied position the faster the Soviets are expected to move.

In London, it was announced Saturday that a solution had been ound to the deadlocked arms control issue.

Those American diplomats who fear the next Russian move remember the Soviets made it their top goal to kill the European Defense Community project. Despite all American efforts to get approval of the plan, France killed it.

These experts believe Russia might produce some glittering, high-sounding offer that would appeal so strongly to neutralist elements in Europe that any new plan agreed upon to re-arm West Germany might be stalled.

These officials point out that while the London conference was underway Russia made a conciliatory gesture by proposing a new atomic control and disarmament plan in the United Nations. The proposal was so handled that the West was forced to say it may hold promise and to give it serious study.

In the same pattern, the Russian Communist party newspaper Pravda said it is convinced there is a possibility of settling international problems.

Warning Issued To Small Craft

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2 (AP)—The New Orleans weather bureau issued the following bulletin at 6 p.m. (CST) today:

"A small circulation north of Yucatan is causing squally weather over the northern Gulf of Mexico with some winds around 35 miles per hour. It is moving west northwest 12 to 15 miles per hour.

"There are some indications that it will move at a slower rate and intensify during the night. Rough seas and above normal tides are expected over the north central Gulf Sunday, especially over the Mississippi Sound. Small craft from Lake Charles, La., to Pensacola, Fla., should remain in port."

FOOT OF HER CLASS

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Rose Marie Florey, 17, studied hard for the role of "The Girl Who Falls Down" in the St. Louis Municipal Opera production of "Oklahoma!" and did just that in a rehearsal, breaking her foot. The part went to a good friend and "just about broke my heart as well as my foot," Miss Florey said.

Price Freeze On Natural Gas Hits Texas Producers

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 2 (AP) — A Houston oil firm this week was reported to have loaded two big freight vans with natural gas records and shipped them to Washington.

This was neither confirmed nor denied but everyone agreed the amount of paper work set into motion by a Federal Power Commission order freezing gas prices at the well has been unprecedented.

Under the original order, yesterday was the deadline for submission of much of the paper work to FPC. Part of the deadlines have been extended to Dec. 1.

Indirectly, the price freeze affects most homes and industrial plants using natural gas. It is an indirect result of a dispute between the Midwest consumer and the gas producer.

Future consumer prices will be affected by the outcome.

Texas is affected more than any other gas producng area. The state produces 53 per cent of the nation's natural gas output.

Over half the estimated 4,100 gas producers affected by the price freeze are Texans.

The state's oil and gas producers meet next week for the first time since a Supreme Court decision June 7 paved the way for the freeze.

Stocks Decline During Week But Only Moderately

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP) — The Stock Market displayed many signs of basic strength this week despite a moderate decline.

The fall came after three weeks of advancing prices. Never at any time did it get out of hand. Moderation was the keynote.

Volume was moderate at a daily average for the five sessions of 1,898,800, a figure about 5 per cent under the daily average so far this year. It is considerably under many recent markets.

The World Series had a lot to do with that relatively small amount of business.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 80 cents on the week and closed at $136.20. That is 80 cents under the peak of the year attained last Friday and touched again the following Tuesday. The high was another in a long series of 25-year peaks and was the best since Oct. 18, 1929.

Prices sagged in the Monday market, advanced in an irregular manner Tuesday, sold off Wednesday and Thursday, and then rallied on Friday.

Cotton Futures Drop Sharply In Week's Trading

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—UP—The forward movement in cotton prices under way since late July, became road-blocked this week when the crop picture was viewed in a more favorable light.

Imminence of the peak harvesting season, plus a pause in the recent urgent mill and exporter buying, also acted to modify recent bullish sentiment.

At Friday's close the list ruled 19 to 48 points—95 cents to $2.90 a bale—lower than the preceding week.

The government crop report, scheduled for next Friday, giving the third estimate of the season, monopolized market attention. Opinion concensus as the week closed was that the crop reporting board may show a substantial increase over the 11,832,000 bales estimated a month ago.

That idea was encouraged by the exceptionally heavy rate of ginnings, backed by private reports that the crop lately has been "holding its own" and that the yields are turning out better than originally expected in some sections.

The slow rate of impoundings under the government loan compared with last year, along with the higher open market prices, and the heavier spot market sales, also handicapped new buying interest.

Some quarters understood that the mills still held much unhedged cotton which might come on the market in the event of a further setback.

Observers discounting the latest flush of optimism on the crop picture, thought the present reports could be exaggerated and preferred to wait for the private crop surveys which usually precede the government report. First of the surveys is expected on Monday.

Skeptics also said that barring a miracle, most traders are convinced that the size of the crop will be insufficient to meet the prospective demand and that loan cotton will have to supplement the additional needs at the higher cost to acquire it.

Evening up in the October delivery proceeded quietly during the week.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The Cleveland Indians are waking up this morning in chills over that horrible nightmare, but when they get through reading the papers they'll find out it was no bad dream after all. Those amazing New York Giants swept the World Series in four straight games, only the seventh time in 51 fall classics that the feat has been accomplished.

I wouldn't surprise us if Leo Durocher was suddenly fighting off a swarm of Blackstones, Houdinis, gypsy fortune tellers, palmists and others if this ilk seeking to learn who made his crystal ball. The mastermind of the Giant dugout didn't make a bobble from the time he elected Dusty Rhodes for a tenth inning pinch-hit role in the first game through his shuffling of pitchers yesterday.

Only a few die-hard Giant fans would have thought it could happen a week ago. Hadn't the Indians just set an American League record of the most games won in a single season? Hadn't the Indians beaten out the battling New York Yankees, defending world champs, for the league pennant with the Yanks, after five straight series triumphs, winning more games than they had the year before?

Fantastic as it may seem, the Giants were not to be denied. There's no telling what the series outcomes may have been had it not been for Mr. James "Dusty" Rhodes, the Alabama county boy who didn't start a single game and appeared only in the first three. Rhodes became the most talked-about overnight hero of any series with his pinch-hitting roles. Stunned into submission by the Rhodes treatment in three games, the Indians were never in the game in the clincher.

Clutch-hitting failure was the Tribe's biggest woe. The Indian pitching was fair enough. Giant hurling was equal to the occasion, the hits came when needed most, and the Durocher decisions were flawless. Leo certainly picked his spots for Rhodes, whose three pinch-hit trips brought a homer and two singles, and six runs batted-in.

The series record book will read New York (NL), four wins; Cleveland (AL), none. It should read Rhodes, three wins; New York, one; Cleveland, none.

When the Winnsboro Wildcats held the Rayville Hornets to a 6-6 tie Friday night, the Ferriday Bulldogs, state Class B champs last year, were really put on the spot. Ferriday, a month ago, was fearing the reclassification from "B" to Class A would be too tough on the Bulldogs' chances for another grid crown. Here it is with the season hardly a quarter gone and Coach Johnny Robinson's Concordia Parish boys, victor in their first two conference games, including a 38-0 defeat of Winnsboro, are looming as strong contenders for the district 2-A title. Ferriday gets its big test against Rayville's defending north Louisiana "A" champions next Friday night.

The Sicily Island Tigers, too, are riding high today. They have taken the two big jumps, Newellton and Wisner, on the way to the 3-B district crown. Waterproof, Davidson, and Block are still parked in the gap, but it looks like Sicily Island the rest of the way.

Giants Sweep World Series From Indians

Polo Grounders Whip Cleveland, 7-4, In Clincher

By JACK HAND

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2 (AP)—The tremendous New York Giants humbled the stunned Cleveland Indians in four straight games to become the first National League World Series winners since 1946 by grabbing today's loosely played, 7-4 finale.

Leo Durocher's opportunists, alert to every chance, piled up an early 7-0 lead for Don Liddle, and then called on Hoyt Wilhelm's dancing knuckler and finally 21-game winner Johnny Antonelli to stave off the dying gasps of the futile Tribe.

Not since 1922 when the Giants of John McGraw rode over the New York Yankees had a National League champ gone through a series without defeat. That sweep, however, was somewhat blemished by one tie game. Actually, the Miracle Boston Braves of 1914 were the last Nationals to do it in four games.

Cleveland, winningest team in American League history with 111 victories while dethroning the five-time champion New York Yankees, suffered the same shocking fate as the Chicago Cubs of 1906 whose 116 triumphs still stands as the major league high. Those old time Cubs, however, did manage to cop a couple from the White Sox.

Down the drain with Cleveland's proud record of never losing a World Series went a $500,000 Sunday gate. The Indians now will have to begin the doleful duty of returning fifth-game ticket money to the fans, just as the Giants will have to redeem tickets for the phantom sixth and seventh.

Lightly regarded as 17-10 underdogs against Cleveland's "Big Three" pitching staff, the underrated Giants never let the Tribe off the floor. After taking the thrilling 10-inning opener 5-2 and beatng Early Wynn in the 3-1 second game, they moved into Cleveland's home park to floor the Tribe for the third time, 6-2, and finally put them out for the count.

With the sweep went the big share of the richest player pool in history, $798,763.72. The two series participants whack up 70 per cent of $559,134.60. The Giants' pot comes to $335,480.76 and the Indians $223,653.84. Commissioner Ford Frick's office refused to announce how the clubs split the loot but it is understood Cleveland has about 38 shares. Without knowing for sure how they divided the money, each winner should get about $9,000 and each loser about $6,000.

At the end it was Antonelli, the young lefthander the Giants snared from Milwaukee with Liddle in the trade for Bobby Thomson, who officiated at the burial services.

Wilhelm had put down a seventh-inning Cleveland threat that produced one run but was in a jam with two on and one out in the eighth when Durocher called for Antonelli, the $65,000 bonus baby of a few years back.

In came the Rochester, N.Y. youngster to blow a third strike past Vic Wertz, whose eight hits were high for the Series. Wally Westlake looked at a called third strike to end the last real threat.

Antonelli walked Sam Dente opening the ninth but got Jim Hegan to foul out, and fanned pinch hitter Dave Philley. Then Dale Mitchell, batting for Dave Pope, lofted a feeble foul pop to third baseman Hank Thompson who gathered it fondly in his glove to touch off a hilarious Giant bench.

Out they swarmed from the dugout for an impromptu victory celebration near the spot where Thompson caught the ball for the final out that ended seven years of American League Series domination. The last Nationals, to win were the St. Louis Cards in 1946 and it took them seven games. The last Giants World Champions were in 1933 when they beat Washington.

And the Giants today did it without Dusty Rhodes, pinch-hitting hero of the first three triumphs who finished the Series on the bench with a .667 batting average while Monte Irvin, his "stand in" as the left field starter in every game, helped wrap it up with a double and single that knocked in two of the seven runs.

Only once all season had Cleveland lost four in a row, during that "lost weekend" at Chicago, July 9-11 just before the All-Star break. They avoided a bad slump all season only to run into their worst days when it counted most.

At that, the big crowd of 78,102 that piled up a record gate of $480,085.64 for a single game, saw the Indians put up more fight in their last gasp than they had in yesterday's stumbling effort. Despite that early 7-0 deficit, they made it reasonably close in the final stages so Durocher had to dig into that deeply stacked bullpen for help.

Liddle, the half pint lefty with the well - controlled curve, had Cleveland at his mercy through the first four innings, allowing only one hit. Two successive errors, one by himself when he failed to touch first base while fielding a throw from Whitey Lockman, and another by Dave Williams, set it up for Hank Majeski to deliver a three-run pinch homer in the fifth.

Majeski's homer into the left field corner, incidentally, was only the fifth by a pinch hitter in all Series competition but the second in this particular set. Rhodes, of course, hit the other in the 10th inning of the first game at the Polo Grounds.

After singles by Wertz, Jim Hegan and pinch-hitter Rudy Regalado added up to another run in the seventh, Durocher called for Wilhelm. Dave Pope, the man who had boasted in today's papers that he hit three or four homers off Wilhelm's knuckler in the spring, hit weakly to the mound to end the inning.

Bob Lemon, who went the route in the first game and was trying to come back in a desperation move with only two days rest, was charged with the first six New York runs. The other one was a black mark on the record of Lefty Hal Newhouser, the former Detroit veteran, who relieved Lemon in the fifth inning.

Don Mueller and Al Dark worked their hit-and-run specialty with precision in the third and fifth to start scoring spurts. Mueller's three singles made him the Giant leader with seven hits, followed by Dark's six.

It was a team triumph, just as Durocher said in the joyous Giant clubhouse. "It belongs to the team," said the manager. "It was a team victory. Everything we did seemed to be right. Everything they did seemed to go against them."

The writing was on the sun-kissed walls for all to see in the second inning when a walk to Hank Thompson, his first of three during the day on the way to a Series record of seven, started Lemon on the way to trouble. Irvin then doubled, sending Thompson to third.

Dave Williams lined to Wertz at first but the converted outfielder, in his eagerness to try for a double play, threw wildly into left field letting Thompson score as Irvin raced to third.

Then came a fielding lapse by left fielder Wally Westlake who got under Wes Westrum's fly ball, only to let it dribble out of his glove in his eagerness to get away a quick throw. Manager Al Lopez of the Indians protested, claiming Westlake had held the ball long enough for an out but was overruled.

While Westlake was chasing the ball, Irvin rode home free with the second Giant run of the inning.

The Dark-Mueller hit-and-run combination put men on first and third in the third to set it up for Willie Mays' double on a ball that bounced over Al Rosen's head. Dark scored but Mueller got only to third.

It was a fairly respectable ball game going to the fifth only 3-0 with Lemon still facing Liddle. Then it happened. Dark singled to left, Mueller singled to right and the Giants were off and running.

When Lemon took Mays to a 3-2 count and then walked him, Lopez sent Lemon to the showers.

Newhouser was of no help. He walked Thompson to force in a run and served up a ball that Irvin hit to left field for a two-run single. Then he was yanked.

The three runs were charged to Lemon because he put the runners on base but Newhouser provided the impetus. Ray Narleski replaced Prince Hal and managed to retire the side with only one more run. Thompson moved to third on Williams's sacrifice and scored on Westrum's sacrifice fly.

That did it for the Giants who had only to protect any share of a 7-0 bulge to grab a plane for home and a victory party.

Greenies Hold Favored Tar Heels To 7-7 Tie

By JAMES SAGGUS

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2 (AP) — Sophomore quarterback Freddie Wilcox injected new life in a stagnant Tulane offense today to lead his team to a 7-7 tie with favored North Carolina.

Tulane, which was lifeless throughout the first half, caught fire in the fourth quarter under Wilcox' guidance. He completed two passes for 36 yards to set up Tulane's touchdown. The drive carried 57 yards and ended one foot short of the goal and Tulane lost the ball on downs, but Wilcox took Larry Parker's punt on the Carolina 48 and returned it to the 16 to give Tulane renewed life.

Florida Springs Upset On Auburn Tigers, 19 To 13

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Oct. 2 (AP)—Three versatile quarterbacks guided the Florida Gators to their second Southeastern Conference upset victory in a row today, spilling Auburn 19-13.

Bobby Lance ran 86 yards for one Florida touchdown and Fred Robinson and Dick Allen passed for the others.

Florida scored in the first half on Robinson's 19-yard toss to Bob Smith and had a 13-0 lead early in the third quarter after Lance fooled Auburn with a fake handoff, ran inside tackle and past the whole Tiger team.

But Auburn, mixing its classy passing combination of Bobby Freeman to Jim Pyburn with the power plunging of Joe Childress, came back to tie it up.

That left it to Allen, a sophomore from Atlanta to guide Florida 68 yards in the final eight minutes. He tossed to Capt. Jerry Bilyk 22 yards for the winning score.

Score by quarters:

Auburn	0	0	6	7	—13
Florida	0	6	7	6	—19

Ferriday Scores 47 To 7 Victory Over Block Foes

JONESVILLE, La., Oct. 2 (Special)—Using their first team intact only for the first quarter, the Ferriday High School Bulldogs thumped the Block Bears of Jonesville, 47 to 7, here last night in a varied show of power.

Guy Hill scored two Ferriday touchdowns on dashes of 49 and 26 yards; Wilburn King plunged five yards for one; Donnie Day rammed the line for three and a touchdown, and the other three Bulldog touchdowns came on passes — Don Horton pitched from one yard out to Leo Young, Jimmy Marks tossed to Marion Newman for 39 yards and paydirt, and Marks also passed to Tony Brocato for a TD on a 77-yard pass-and-run play.

Clyde Webber kicked three Ferriday conversions, Hill booted one, and Hill passed to Webber for another.

The touchdowns runs by Hill were the only times he carried the ball.

Carl Fuller brought Block its only touchdown on a 7-yard end run in the second quarter Collins skirted end for the conversion.

Texas Aggies Go Into Air To Tag Georgia, 6 to 0

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 2 (AP)—Texas A&M an undermanned underdog, abandoned its racehorse running game in the clutch today and turned to passing to upset Georgia 6-0.

Coach Bear Bryant brought only 31 players to Athens but they were a determined group and refused to wilt under a blazing sun and hard play.

Swift Aggie backs such as Elwood Kettler, Don Watson and Don Kachtik and a mobile, fast charging line kept the ball in Georgia territory practically the whole game, although they managed only one touchdown.

Georgia, favored by a touchdown and with a greater stock of reserves, never was able to get a threatening offense rolling. Quarterback Jimmy Harper had a bad day, failing to connect on a pass until well into the fourth quarter.

Kachtik intercepted a Harper pass on the Bulldog 47 and returned it to the 30 to set up the Aggie score. Kettler, a quarterback converted from halfback, passed 14 yards to end Jack Pardee and the final 16 to end Gene Stallings.

It was the first victory of the season for the Aggies and Georgia's first defeat. The Bulldogs have never beaten A&M in three meetings.

Texas A&M	0	6	0	0	—6

Texas A&M scoring: Touchdown, Stallings.

Vic Seixas Upset By Mexican Star In Zone Cup Play

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 2 (AP) — American Champion Vic Seixas was the victim of a startling upset, but Tony Trabert came through as expected today as the United States and Mexico split the opening singles matches of the final round American zone Davis Cup competition. Gustavo Palafox downed Seixas, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5, and Trabert routed Mario Llamas, 6-4, 6-3, 8-6.

Now the best-of-five series cannot possibly end until Monday and even if the United States wins all the remaining matches, it will go down as a moral victory for the Mexicans.

Trabert and Seixas will face Palafox and Llamas in the doubles tomorrow. In the final singles, the pairing will be reversed with Siexas taking on Llamas and Trabert going up against Palafox.

Seixas' defeat was startling, indeed, and many of the spectators could hardly believe it when Palafox, a veteran of the international tennis wars who never has won any big tournaments, passed the big Philadelphian time and again.

Underdog Army Hands Michigan 26 To 7 Defeat

By JOE FALLS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 2 (AP)—Army's Black Knights, uncoiling a frightening ground game, extended one of football's most baffling jinxes today by upsetting Michigan 26 to 7 before 69,783 fans.

The cadets, 13-point underdogs, scored three times in the first half on end thrusts by Mike Zeigler, Pat Uebel and Tommy Bell.

Bell, a hard-running halfback from the Bronx, N.Y. scored his second touchdown on a 48-yard sprint in the fourth period.

Army's line, supposedly weak and inexperienced, stood firm in the second half to stop Michigan cold.

It was a brilliant win for Coach Earl Blaik's Cadets who lost 34-20 to South Carolina last week.

It was a bitter loss for the Wolverines who have beaten every one of their opponents—except Army. The Cadets have a perfect five-out-of-five record against Michigan in the intersectional series through the years.

Michigan, hoping to make it two straight after last week's 14-0 victory over Washington, cracked Army's defense only once and needed a weird play to score.

It was a combination pass-lateral with Ed Hickey scoring on the end of a 46-yard play in the first quarter. Other than that, it was Army's game.

Army	13	7	0	6	—26
Michigan	7	0	0	0	— 7

Army scoring: Touchdown, Zeigler, Uebel, Bell 2. Conversion, Chesnauskas, 2.

Michigan scoring: Touchdown, Hickey. Conversion, McDonald.

Return Grapple Match Scheduled For Tuesday

A return wrestling feature has been scheduled at Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, when Jack Curtis and Indian Chief Apache again take on villains Frank Murdock and Rube Wright.

Two one fall - to - win preliminaries, each with a ten-minute time limit, precede the main event and Pat "Big Boy" Cronin will again referee all bouts.

Last Tuesday in the feature match, Jack and Chief defeated Murdock and Wright in three falls, but it was only through a skillful Curtis tactic in the deciding fall that they won.

Chief had worked over both Murdock and Wright through most of the first heat using a vicious arm twist on both until Murdock countered. Frank was forced to give up after his arm was almost twisted off.

The evil pair gained revenge in the next fall when they gave Chief a severe beating and successfully prevented his tagging Curtis into action. Wright applied the finisher, a crabhold that made Apache give up.

It was Curtis who took the punishment in the third out of Chief's reach, but just when it seemed the handsome husky must quit, he managed to push himself over backwards on Wright, using the corner post as leverage, and held the villain down long enough for the count.

Texas U. Smothers Washington State By 40-14 Margin

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP) — A Texas attack as scorching as the rays of the sun wilted the fighting Washington State Coughars here this hot, humid day, 40-14.

The first Washington State tally came on the most sensational run of the day, a 73-yard gallop by fullback Duke Washington, the first Negro ever to play in Memorial Stadium.

But Texas already had crossed the Cougar line three times before Washington made his great second period run, and the Longhorns blasted twice more before half time.

Substitute fullback Don Maroney initiated the scoring with a two-yard smash off left tackle as Texas struck over guard and off tackle for 77 yards in 12 plays.

Pat Tolar, the number three Texas quarterback accounted for two Longhorn touchdowns.

Glen Dyer, the number four quarterback, also collected two Texas tallies. Joe Youngblood, number three right half, banged over left tackle from the two for the touchdown that gave Texas a 20-0 lead just before Washington's score on a delayed buck.

Score by quarters:

Washington State	0	7	0	7	—14
Texas	7	26	7	0	—40

Washington State scoring: touchdowns, Washington and Toomey. Conversions, Parnell and Sarno.

Texas scoring: touchdowns, Maroney, Tolar 2, Youngblood and Dyer 2. Conversions, Lansford and Youngblood 3.

Mississippi Mauls Hapless Villanova For 52 To 0 Rout

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2 (AP)—Mississippi's racing Rebels wrecked inexperienced Villanova tonight with a near perfect passing attack that buried the Wildcats 52-0 before 95,607 spectators at Municipal Stadium.

The split T Rebels showed the "Grocery Bowl" patrons—most of the fans attended on tickets obtained with purchases made at a grocery chain store in the Philadelphia area—what was in store in the very first period.

After stopping the only serious Villanova drive on their 2-yard line, Houston Patton, a 19-year-old junior, lopped a pass over the heads of the Villanova secondary to end Dave Dickerson who raced unmolested the rest of the 79 yards to score.

Eagle Day, another junior signal caller, picked off a Villanova pass three plays later and returned it 16 yards to the Wildcat 47. Day hit halfback Earl Blair for 19-yards and then Allen (Red) Muirhead broke through left guard, shook off two linemen and went 26 yards for a score.

Villanova again failed to gain and Blair returned a punt to the Wildcat 33. Three plays later, Day kept the ball on a split T option, slid outside letf tackle and went 25 yards into the end zone.

About two minutes later, Day connected with Blair on a spot pass in the right secondary and the sprinting junior covered the rest of the 68 yards without trouble.

Jimmy Sanders was the scoring leader with 12 points for Delta State while Billy Hubbard was the workhorse.

The first period saw no scoring with the teams displaying good hard football. Delta State scored with 35 seconds left in th first half with Jackie Pope taking a Gip Garner pass goof for nine yards. This play was set up by a 43-yard punt by Pope that Northeast fumbled on their own 33.

Purdue Cut Down Notre Dame With Passes, 27-14

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 2 (AP)—Sure-fire Len Dawson cut down the nation's No. 1 football team, Notre Dame, today with four touchdown passes good for a total of 156 yards to sharpshoot Purdue to a stunning 27-14 upset triumph.

The lanky six-foot sophomore quarterback from Alliance, Ohio, also converted three times and keyed the Boilermakers' pass-defense that eventually smothered desperation shots by two Irish aerialists, Ralph Guglielmi and sophomore Paul Hornung.

The victory, before 58,256 screaming fans, snapped Notre Dame's undefeated string at 13 and repeated history of Purdue's 23-14 decision four years ago that ended the Irish's 39-game unbeaten streak.

The 19-year-old Dawson, who fired four touchdown tosses as Purdue blanked Missouri 31-0 last week, was without peer today as his range-finding shots put Notre Dame in the hole 14-0 in the first 5½ minutes of the game.

He hit senior end John Kerr for an eight-yard payoff in the opening 3½ minutes then ollowed with a 41-yard scoring pass play to lefthalf Rex Brock.

After Notre Dame trimmed the lead to 14-8 at halftime with a safety and Nick Raich's one-yard touchdown blast after Hornung's 61-yard run, Dawson struck again for touchdowns in the third and fourth periods.

Guglielimi's toss to end Dan Shannon was good for 42 yards at the outset of the third and set up Don Shaefer's Notre Dame touchdown from the 2. Schaefer's try for point was wide, as was Hornung's in the second period.

With the score tied 14-14, the lean-lanky Dawson rode to the rescue on a 73-yard pass payoff to Lamore Lundy.

Lundy, giant 6-7, 213-pound sophomore end from Richmond, Ind., hugged the ball on the Notre Dame 40 and lumbered into the end zone without a man in front of him.

For good measure, Dawson guided the Boilermakers on a 77-yard touchdown romp in the first four minutes of the finale. He uncorked a screen-pass to junior fullback Bill Murkowski who sped across on a play covering 34 yards.

In taking their sixth victory over Notre Dame in a 26-game series dating back to 1896, Purdue piled up 224 yards by passing and 94 by rushing. Notre Dame gained 179 and 91.

Dawson hit on 7 out of 12 passes for 213 yards. Guglielmi connected on 13 out of 22 for 154.

Notre Dame	0	8	6	0	—14

Purdue scoring: Touchdowns, Kerr, Brock, Lundy, Murakowski. Conversions, Dawson 3.

Notre Dame scoring: Touchdowns, Raich, Schaefer. Safety, Brock (tackled by Lemek).

Maroons Win But Discover Breather Is Not So Restful

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Oct. 2 (AP)—Fumbling Mississippi State had to call on third string halfbacks Jim Tait and Frank Sabbatini to defeat little Arkansas State, 46-13, today.

It was billed as a breather for Mississippi State, but for three periods the game turned out to be a thriller. Arkansas State battled savagely against superior numbers.

Mississippi State took a 20-0 first half lead, but Arkansas State smashed to two quick touchdowns early in the third period in a manful effort to upset the Mississippians.

Embarrassed by their sluggish and fumbling performance through three periods, Mississippi State finally regained its poise and rolled to four touchdowns in the final period.

Supposedly warming up for next weeks SEC encounter with Tulane, Mississippi State fumbled nine times.

Arkansas State converted two of these fumbles into their only touchdowns of the bruising encounter played under a baking sun before 9,000 fans.

Mississippi State drove 78 yards in the first period to take a 6-0 lead after Joe silveri'a 10-yard touchdown run.

Then the Mississippi State offense fell apart. Coach Darrell Royal rushed Tait and Sabbatini into the game. Tait promptly dashed 28 yards for Mississippi States second touchdown and Sabbatini drove 15 yards for the third score to give State a 20-0 third-period lead.

Arkansas State snapped back in the third period to score twice on bucks of one yard by Tommy Spiers and six yards by Don Dunn. Bill Templeton converted once for Arkansas State.

Worn down by the intense heat and Mississippi State's deep reserve strength, Arkansas State's defense finally collapsed in the fourth period, allowing Mississippi State to score almost at will.

Scoring touchdowns in the final period for Mississippi State were Art Davis on runs of 18 and 47 yards, Jim Harness on a 37-yard dash and Levaine Hollingshead on a 43-yard pass from quarterback Bobby Collins. Clovis McKissick converted twice for Mississippi State and Harness added the other two extra points.

Arkansas State	0	0	13	0	—13
Mississippi State	6	14	0	26	—46

Mississippi State Scoring; Touchdowns, Silveri, Tait, Sabbatini, Harness, Hollingsworth, Davis 2. Conversions, McKissick 2, Harness 2.

Arkansas State scoring: Touchdowns, Spiers, Dunn. Conversion, Templeton.

Arkansas Upsets TCU, 20-13, With Final Minute TD

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP)—Bobby Proctor dashed 63 yards with an intercepted pass to set up the winning touchdown with only a minute to go tonight as Arkansas upset Texas Christian 20-13 in the opening Southwest Conference football game.

The crowd of 25,000 was pandemonium as Henry Moore, the slashing Arkansas fullback, slammed across for the score that brought Arkansas its first victory in Texas since 1948. There were only 28 seconds left on the big clock as Moore, who had scored the second Arkansas touchdown with a 48-yard run, went over from just one foot out.

The Razorbacks, one of the best conditioned teams ever to come out of the Ozarks, played solid football all the way, cashing in on a T.C.U. fumble for one touchdown and almost scoring as the result of another. A fumble also lost T.C.U. a touchdown when it dropped the ball on the Arkansas one.

Arkansas' defense also was solid as a rock as the fierce-tackling Razorbacks halted surge after surge in the latest minutes.

L. S. U. Beaten In Fading Minutes By Kentucky, 7-6

By BILL HUDSON

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 2 (AP)—Little Dick Mitchell skirted right end for four vital yards in the closing seconds tonight to give Kentucky a 7-6 football victory over Louisiana State and enable the winners to vacate the Southeastern Conference cellar.

Tackle Duke Curnutte pounced on Dickie Prescott's fumble on the L. S. U. 45 to set up the score and Kentucky ate up the yardage in 11 ground plays. Sophomore Delmar Hughes assured the win with his conversion.

The clock showed 1 minute and 3 seconds left to play.

L. S. U. socred on the first play of the last period as fullback O. K. Ferguson rammed one yard for the Tiger touchdown. Al Doggetts attempted conversion was wide.

L. S. U. halfback Chuck Johns hauled a Kentucky punt back 57 yards late in the third period in the games most dazzling run to set up the visitors' score.

Kentucky's Billy Mitchell overtook him on the sidelines at the 17, but it only prolonged the misery for Kentucky for four plays.

Kentucky and L. S. U. both winless heretofore, mustered major scoring threats earlier but faded on the goalline.

Score by quarters:

Louisiana State	0	0	0	6	— 6
Kentucky	0	0	0	7	— 7

Louisiana State scoring: touchdown, Ferguson.

Kentucky scoring: Touchdown, D. Mitchell. Conversion, Hughes.

Moegle Red Hot As Rice Thumps Cornell Eleven

HOUSTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Speedster Dicky Moegle included a sizzling 78 - yard scamper among four touchdown runs tonight while leading Rice Institutes Owls to a 41-20 intersectional football victory over Cornell University.

A crowd of 35,000 saw the hero of Rices Cotton Bowl victory over Alabama last New Year's Day roll up 216 yards on offense, including 168 net yards rushing, while playing less than half the game.

The 20-year-old Taylor, Tex., senior broke over right guard for touchdown runs of 18 and 40 yards as Rice jumped into a 20-0 first quarter lead. He added another six points, this time a 10-yard gain at right end, in the second quarter.

Score by quarters:

Cornell	0	6	7	7	—20
Rice	20	14	0	7	—41

Cornell scoring: touchdowns, Kalinich 2, Suiter. Conversions, Suiter, Van Buren.

Rice scoring: touchdowns, Moegle 4, Stone, Holland. Conversions. Throckmorton 5.

Jet Pilot Dies In Crash; Avoids Hitting Houses

BOSTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—An Air National Guard pilot who apparently heroically elected to shoot his jet plane into an embankment to avoid houses was killed today when the craft crashed on the east Boston shore of Boston Harbor directly after taking off from Logan International Airport.

The pilot, the only occupant of the jet, was identified by ANG operations as 1st Lt. James O. Conway of Bedford, Mass.

Witnesses said Conway evidently headed for the embankment to avoid a row of brick houses when the plane began losing altitude right after the takeoff.

The plane burned in a crumpled heap, igniting one house on the harbor edge, but the flames were extinguished quickly without injury to any of the house occupants.

Commodore Charles Parchinsky of the Orient Heights Yacht Club said a ball of flame rose from the plane after it crashed. "I never saw anything like it," he added. "There was ammuniton going off all over the place."

No one was injured by the exploding ammunition.

CAMERA TIPS
By Aubrey Daly

IN COLOR PHOTOGRAPHY . . . More than in black-and-white, it is important to avoid extremes of subject contrast. Especially in outdoor shots. The extreme brightness of direct sun often makes the brightness range between highlights and shadows so great your high light areas might wash out entirely or your shadows might plug up and be extremely dark. Try to arrange your subject to avoid any extreme contrasts. You'll be more satisfied with your results. And for best results in your pictures bring us your films for skillful handling and printing. The best costs no more.

Tech's Concert Group Now Ready For Banner Year

The Louisiana Tech Concert Association is making ready for what is indcated as the banner year, when it opens for the tenth anniversary this fall. The opening numbers will be by genial Thomas L. Thomas with concerts on Oct. 25 and 26. He is a popular artist and has been featured on the Firestone Hour which has booked him as popular on the concert stage as well as in radio and television.

By popular request, November 20 and 23 the famed Wagner Opera company will appear for its fourth time in Howard auditorium, with a presentation in English of "Madam Butterfly."

Two accordians and a string bass, the Concert Trio, which had such a warm reception when they were presented as an extra number in the summer of 1953 will be brought back to the L. T. C. A. series on December 2 and 3.

Arthur Fiedler and his universally popular Boston Pops Orchestra will be featured matinee and night on February 26.

A chorus of twelve plus four soloists and a piano team for the accompaniments, a production known as the Victor Herbert Festival, is dated March 14 and 16.

Tentatively scheduled for March 28 is the much publicized Caine Mutiny court-martia.

The much heraided contralto, Claramae Turner, with the flawless piano team, Ferrante and Teicher, will be a most unusual double feature to close the series May 2 and 3.

Customarily, the L.T.C.A. schedules an extra number or two during the year.

Membership cards may be secured from local solicitors in most communities of north central Louisiana and southern Arkansas or they may be secured by writing directly to the L. T. C. A. in care of the Music Department, Ruston, La.

Blumenthal-Fox Wedding Is Outstanding Event In Spring Valley, New York

Miss Barbara Minna Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fox of Spring Valley, New York, became the bride of Ernest Blumenthal, son of Mrs. Bernard Marcus of this city and the late Abe Blumenthal, in an impressive double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock Thursday evening at the Singer Hotel in Spring Valley.

The private dining room in which the ceremony was performed was artistically decorated with white gladiolas and a flower decked canopy. Arrangements of large mums were also used throughout the room.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a wedding gown of white lace over nylon satin with long pointed sleeves and a finger-tip veil of lace. Her bouquet was of roses and stephanotis, centered with white orchids.

The bride's matron of honor was Mrs. Morris Blumenthal. Her gown was a becoming pink model and she carried a bouquet of deep pink roses.

Miss Myrna Metzoff was maid of honor and wore a gown of cruise pink and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. Morris Blumenthal, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a slate blue satin gown with an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Marcus, the bridegroom's mother, was becomingly attired in a blue model enhanced by an orchid.

A cocktail party and dinner for the family and close friends followed the wedding.

For a wedding trip to New York City, the bride changed to a grey suit with the orchid from her bouquet.

The couple will make their home at Presque Isle, Maine where Mr. Blumenthal is stationed with the air corps. Upon receiving his discharge from the service, the couple will reside in Monroe.

The bride graduated from North Carolina Woman's College.

Mr. Blumenthal attended Webb School at Avon Old Farms, Conn., and recently returned from Thule, Greenland Air Base where he has been stationed for the past year.

MR. AND MRS. ERNEST BLUMENTHAL

Pledge Troth In Woodville

Mr. and Mrs. William Richey of Manifest announce the marriage of their daughter Miss Lilla Mae Richey to Raymond Shipley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rance Shipley of Enterprise.

The ceremony was performed on Saturday evening September 25 in Woodville, Miss. The young couple will make their home in New Orleans.

Want to try your hand at baking French eclairs? Use a standard recipe for cream puffs and drop the batter by spoonfuls onto a baking sheet. Then with a small knife or spatula, shape the batter into oblongs that are about four inches long and one inch wide. Make sure the eclairs are at least two inches apart from each other to allow for expansion during baking.

Little Theatre Opens 23rd Season With 3 Act Comedy

The newly decorated Little Theatre of Monroe will open it's twenty-third season in the Twin Cities on October 14, with the Samuel and Bella Spewack comedy "My Three Angels."

The local groups production, among the first non-professionals in the nation to present this Broadway hit, will feature for the first time, a visiting artist from the Shreveport Theatres. Sam Haigler Henry will repeat his widely acclaimed role as one of the three angels.

While the productions of the five plays a year, always claim the publicity spotlight, literally scores of other activities go on behind the scenes to make these plays possible. The play reading committee has been reading numbers and numbers of plays all summer long and meeting in discussion groups to choose the plays they feel will be most popular with local theatre goers. The fifteen members of the board of directors meet in regular sessions to guide the policies and business of the non-profit organization, that is dedicated to bringing theatre to many who are unable to make the Broadway beat.

In a social aspect, the hostess committee is responsible for the charming coffee interlude at intermission during the run of the play. More than a hundred hostesses of the theatre participate in this phaze of the theatre during a season.

It is estimated that on an average more than fifty actors and actresses appear on stage during a season and are given opportunity for development of their talents before a live audience. Many of these actors have scored personal triumphs in the productions. The backstage workers during the run of a season often include more than a hundred workers at such tasks as set building, make-up, wardrobe, properties, sound effects and many more important details that make for a relatively professional presentation.

"My Three Angels" will open here October 14, for a week's engagement. Two other plays chosen for this year so far are "Affairs of State" and "Time Out For Ginger."

October Will Be PTA Membership Month In State

Gov. Robert F. Kennon proclaims October P.-T. A. membership month and the Louisiana Parent - Teacher Association sets its goal at 95,000 members.

Governor Kennon, citing that — "The establishment and maintenance of good schools in our state is a responsibility shared by every citizen . . . The National Congress of Parents and Teachers is an educational organization that seeks to unite the forces of home, school and community in behalf of children and youth . . ." urges all citizens interested in the public schools of America and the education and welfare of the children of Louisiana to become members of the Louisiana Parent - Teacher Association, a branch of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. A. W. Cockerham, Shreveport, state membership chairman, points out areas in which acute problems now exist, problems which vitally affect our children and youth and with which the P.-T. A. is concerned — the acute shortage of teachers. The P.-T. A. will do its utmost to inspire more young people to choose teaching as a vocation . . . Our Louisiana legislature appropriated funds this summer for raising teacher salaries — but we must work toward lightening teacher loads — and giving teaching the prestige it deserves . . . We are still faced with the need of more classrooms . . . Juvenile delinquency is a local and nation - wide problem. We adults are going to have to tackle this problem by tackling its causes. We must become sensitive to every brutalizing influence that touches children's lives. The program theme for the year is "Better Communities Are Our Business."

Mrs. J. S. Goff, Shreveport, president, urges all citizens interested in the welfare of the child — and the community — to join hands in P.-T. A. membership to work toward this common goal. She urges 100 per cent membership in Parent-Teacher Units and invites Parent groups not now in membership with the Louisiana Parent-Teacher Association to join the organization — "for to discharge the tasks before us we need to work with all our might — for our tasks we need the largest of task forces — and the largest membership in our state possible."

Check Your Mental Health

Mental health is as essential to one's happiness as physical health. Home Demonstration Club women have worked toward better mental health for the past two months. Those who wish to evaluate themselves should consider the characteristics that go to make up a mentally healthy person and see how well they measure up to them.

People with good mental health, according to the National Association for Mental Health, are those who feel comfortable about themselves; who feel right about other people; and who are able to meet the demands of life.

Feeling comfortable about themselves means they can handle their own emotions and take life's disappointments in their stride. They are able to laugh at themselves and neither underestimate nor over estimate their abilities. They accept their shortcomings, have self-respect and get satisfaction from the simple pleasures of life. These people who feel right about themselves are able to deal constructively with most situations that confront them in life.

People who feel right about other people are capable of loving others and caring for their interests. Such people like and trust others and enjoy lasting and satisfying friendships. They respect the differences they find in people. They can feel they are a part of a group and feel a sense of responsibility to their neighbors and fellow men. These people who feel right about others do not push people around or allow themselves to be pushed around.

The third characteristic of being able to meet the demands of life, the mental hygienists tell us, includes the ability to face problems and deal with them as they arise. These people accept responsibility. These are people who shape their environment, if possible, but adjust to it when necessary. They enjoy new experiences and new ideas. They plan ahead but have no fear of the future. Such persons set realistic goals for themselves and use their natural capacities to realize them. They think for themselves. Repeatedly they put their best effort into their work and get pleasure from it.

Fire Accidents and Hazards

October 3-9 has been officially proclaimed, "Fire Prevention Week", by President Eisenhower. In observation of this week the president recommended doing the following things:

Get rid of all trash; Replace all badly worn electrical wiring; Protect electric circuits against overheating by fuses of proper amperage; Never use a penny in fuse box; don't smoke in the barn or in the bed or any other place where a fire may quickly start; Check stoves and heaters to be sure they are in good condition; Remember, never pour oil of any kind—coal oil, fuel oil or gasoline on smoldering coals. We had several explosions and fires, yes several deaths, in this area last year, caused by this carelessness. Don't take this risk again. You can list many other things to check and prevent fire loss. Do prevent fire in 1954. See you next Sunday.

1218 Children Earn Summer Reading Certificates

The "Books around the world" reading club sponsored by the Ouachita Parish Public Library during the recent summer vacation was the most successful one that the library has ever sponsored. The first reading club at the Library was organized in the summer of 1949 and each summer since then a most successful program has been carried on. However, the number of children who completed their reading this summer is much larger than ever before. The library staff feels that part of the success of the program is due to the fact that the children did not have to keep their own lists of books read this summer, but merely reported the number to a library assistant.

To earn a certificate a child was required to read 15 books. Gold stars were added to his certificate for every group of five books read over the required 15. Children of the fourth grade or up read one book with a setting in a foreign country in each group of five books. Reading about boys and girls of other lands helps to make children more understanding and at the same time deepens our love of our own country.

Since so many children earned certificates this year, it is impossible to list all of their names but a few facts about the club should be interesting. The number of certificates earned by branches is as follows: Monroe 509, West Monroe 265, Bookmobile 350 and Carver 94. This makes a total of 1218 certificates.

The number of certificates earned by schools is as follows: Lexington 91, Georgia Tucker, 81, Crosley, 69, Barkdull Faulk, 66, Millsaps, 62, Sherrouse, 58, Plum Street, 54, West Monroe High School, 50, Selman Field, 46, Mitchell, 36, Highland, 46, A. L. Smith, 44, Lida Benton, 42, Neville, 32, Ouachita Parish Grammar, 30, Logtown, 29, Drew, 25; Lenwil, 22, Claiborne, 21, Ransom, 20, Swartz, 20, Calhoun, 19, St. Pascal's, 16, Central Grammar, 15, Eureka, 14, St. Matthews, 12; Ouachita Parish High School, 9; Cypress, 8; Watson, 6, Fairbanks, 5, Our Lady of Fatima, 5; Oakloosa 3. In addition to having the largest total number of certificates, Lexington School also had the largest total of books read. The students of Lexington School read 3,325 books at the Ouachita Parish Public Library during the summer months.

Although we did not stress the number of books to be read and although we are just as proud of the child who read 15 as the one who read 100, we feel that it is only fair to do honor to the patron of each branch who was the most faithful in reading during the summer months. Suzanne Gates of 203 Georgia Street, who is a 2nd grade student at Barkdull Faulk and who is only six years old read the greatest number of books from the Monroe branch. Mary Lynn Armstrong of 101 Mitchell Lane, who is 11 years old and a 7th grade student at Neville read the most books from the West Monroe branch. Suzanne read 145 books, while Mary Lynn read 110. Betty Sue Agin, who's address is Route 1, Box 242, West Monroe read 70 books from the Bookmobile this summer. Betty Sue is 14 years old and an 8th grade student at West Monroe High School. Betty Jo Foster, an 8th grade student at Carroll High School read the largest number of books from the Carver branch. Her total was 100 books.

Within the next two weeks all of these certificates will be awarded at the schools of the parish. Parents and teachers both realize the advantages gained by children who take part in the summer reading club. If your child did not read this summer, he missed a wonderful opportunity and we hope that you will permit him to read next year. If he did read during the summer month, please do not let him stop now that school has opened. There is still plenty of time for reading good books at the Ouachita Parish Public Library.

Little Miss Cathy McLeod, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore an ice blue taffeta gown and carried a matching basket of mixed pink and white flowers.

Mrs. Bradford, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in a navy and white faille dress with navy accessories and a white carnation corsage.

A reception followed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cureington.

The bride's table was covered with a blue cutwork cloth centered with the bride's bouquet with the three tiered wedding cake at one end of the table and the central punch bowl was placed at the opposite end of the table and presided over by Miss Dorothy Jane Paul of Many. Serving the cake was Mrs. W. L. Bradford sister-in-law of the groom.

Miss Evelyn Turnley kept the bride's guest book.

Providing music during the reception was Miss Billie Jean Taylor.

Immediately following the reception the couple left on a brief wedding trip. For traveling, the bride changed to a stunning light weight wool blue suit with black velvet accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Harrisonburg High School and is presently attending Northeast State College in Monroe.

Mr. Bradford is a graduate of Jena High School and Louisiana College in Pineville.

Mrs. S. Kennon Presides At B&PW Meeting

On Tuesday evening, September 28 the B. & P. W. Club met at the Y. W .C. A. with the health and safety committee in charge. Mrs. Sarah Kennon, chairman, Mrs. Billie Harrell, co-chairman, and the other members, Mrs. Carice King, Mrs. Dorothy Williams, Mrs. Pauline Welch, Mrs. Ava White, Mrs. Thelma Gunn and Mrs. Alice Farrar, greeted the guests and assisted in signing the register in the hallway, which had been made unusually attractive by a large arrangement of specimen golden chrysanthemums, gladioli and painted autumn grasses. In the program room, guernsey lilies and coleus were artistically displayed.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Kennon. After introducing her committee, Dr. W. Carroll Summer, director of the Ouachita Parish Health Unit was presented as guest speaker. Dr. Summer explained at length, and in an interesting manner, the operations of the unit from the time of its beginning thirty-three years ago. The club was told of its growth and the hopes for the future. At the conclusion of the talk, there was general discussion. Three members of the Ruston Club were guests. They were Mrs. Gertrude Wilson, chairman of health and safety, Miss Margaret Tillotson and Mrs. Almeda Welch. Mrs. Wilson made a short talk regarding the state health and safety work.

A short period was devoted to business. It was announced that the club was invited to attend the silver tea given by the Junior Charity League. Business and Professional Club week is scheduled from October 10 through October 16, and this was discussed. The week will be crowded with activities, beginning with a breakfast October 10. A Bosses' banquet follows on Tuesday evening, meeting with Ruston club on Thursday evening, social hour at Mrs. Slator's Friday evening.

After adjournment, the club was invited to the dining room which presented a beautiful autumn picture. The table, covered with crimson, was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves and tapers held in small bouquets of vari - colored flowers. The central decoration was a large display of golden chrysanthemums, painted daisies and grasses.

Those present were: Miss Mamie Ober, Mrs. Lucille Mathis, Miss Mary O'Kelly, Mrs. Lucille Haddox, Mrs. Gladys Miles, Mrs. Bessie Skinner, Mrs. Agnes Krogmire, Mrs. Marguerite Meek, Mrs. Gertrude Wilson, Miss Margaretta Tillotson, Mrs. Almeda Welch, Mrs. Mary Gene Lea, Mrs. Carice King, Mrs. Louise Massey, Miss Alice Baur, Mrs. India Calder, Mrs Jewell Wise, Miss Lula Swinson, Miss Hazel Wakefield, Mrs. Inas Harrington, Mrs. Flora Seamon, Mrs. Zera Edwards, Miss Bettie Oxford, Miss Maibel Hood, Mrs. Ruby Soureal, Mrs. Dorothy Blacketer, Miss Carolyn Oliver and Mrs. Edna Manley.

Chef's trick: garnish steak or chops with water cress and Radish Fans. To make the Fans, cut the roots away from the radishes but leave about one inch of their green tops. Then cut thin slices crosswise almost through the radish. Let the radishes stand in ice water in the refrigerator so they will spread out like a fan.

Breaded pork chops are delicious but you must make sure they are well done. To test, cut a small slit near the bone; if no trace of pink can be seen on the meat it is ready to serve.

Velveteen Is Washable

Velveteen is one of this season's most popular fabrics. You'll find many pretty blouses, skirts and dresses in vivid autumn shades.

Stoles are in velveteen, too, trimmed with silky fringe of contrasting colors. Some are studded with rhinestones and pearls.

Perhaps the most interesting of the velveteens are the separates. These halter-type blouses and wide circular skirts are smart additions to day-time wardrobes.

You've probably admired the new velveteen items, but wondered about their washability. They can be washed just as easily as your other "tubbable" clothes. Of course, there are a few general rules to follow for perfect results.

Before washing any velveteen, turn it inside out. Then, fill your basin with lukewarm water. Using a mild soap, work up enough soapsuds to cover the entire garment. Swish it through the soapsuds, but do it gently.

The most important rule to remember when washing anything by hand is: don't ever rub any two parts of a garment together. This harsh action weakens the fabric and the net result is a tired-looking garment.

The same is true of velveteen. So, after swishing a velveteen piece through the suds, give it several rinses in clear, lukewarm water.

After rinsing, turn the velveteen right side out. Place it on a hanger and allow it to drip dry. When dry, use a soft brush to fluff up the pile.

When ironing velveteen you may use two methods. First, iron the garment on the wrong side with a warm iron. Or, hold your steam iron right above the fabric and steam it.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES WALTER BOYCE

The C. W. Boyces Observe Golden Wedding Anniv.

Open house was held last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walter Boyce of West Monroe to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

The living room where Mr. and Mrs. Boyce received their friends was decorated with gift arrangements of large bronze chrysanthemums and gold and bronze daisies.

Mrs. Boyce was wearing a dress of grey sheer crepe with a corsage of gold chrysanthemums.

In the dining room the table was covered with a sheer linen cloth and centered with large gold chrysanthemums interspersed with gold pompoms and gold and bronze cattails. The tiered wedding cake decorated in gold and white was at one end and a crystal punch bowl from which frosted golden punch was served was at the opposite end. Maidenhair fern and gold chrysanthemums garlanded the bases of each of them. Gold compotes containing gold mints were used on the table. Yellow gladioli; God with gold metalic ribbons were used on the buffet. Mrs. Preston Parker, Mrs. Cyde Mitchell and Mrs. C. W. Boyce Jr. served in the dining room. Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. Belve Barnes and Mrs. John Sullivan.

Among the out-of-town guests included were, Mr. and Mrs. Lee W. Boyce of Sibley, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Boyce and Miss Janell Boyce, Minden, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Lee, Springhill, Mr. and Mrs. Belve L. Barnes and Belve Jr. of Bossier City. Many friends called during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyce were married in Sibley, September 29, 1904, and have lived most of this time in West Monroe.

Try this casserole if you have roast beef leftover. Cut the meat into two-inch squares and mix it with drained canned tomatoes and drained whole-kernel corn. Add a little basil and allspice and salt and pepper to taste. Bake, covered, in a moderate oven until hot.

Next time you make a puffy omelet, sprinkle it with grated Parmesan cheese before folding. Or fill it with sliced onions and mushrooms cooked lightly in butter. Serve either of these omelets with a tossed green salad and crusty rolls for lunch.

Mrs. Carl Earl Hostess To Lambda Club

The Rayville Lambda Kappa Club had its first meeting of the new club year in the lovely home of Mrs. Carl Earl with eighteen members and nine guests present.

Mrs. R. S. Swetman, the president, called the club to order and the Club Collect was repeated. The new Year Books were distributed and the Year Book Committee was given a rising vote of appreciation for their splendid work. A number of items of business were attended to then the new officers for the year were installed by Miss Robbie Binion. The officers are Mrs. J. C. Sartor, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Downes, recording secretary; Mrs. G. D. Cain, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. R. E. Whatley introduced the speakers of the afternoon, Mrs. R. S. Swetman and Mrs. J. C. Sartor. Mrs. Swetman showed us colored films of her trip out west this summer, which were enjoyed by every one. Mrs. Sartor told us in a very interesting manner about her trip to Europe especially her stay in London and Paris. It was very informative as well as interesting. After these wonderful talks we, "stay at homes", felt as if we had been with them on their journeys.

Mrs. Earl assisted by Mrs. Lesley Richardson, Mrs. Oliver Lowery, and Mrs. Pat Earl, served delicious refreshments to the following club members and guests: Mrs. J. Y. Abraugh, Miss Robbie Binion, Mrs. Joe Brown, Mrs. G. D. Cain, Mrs. Lorna Collins, Mrs. Richard Downes, Mrs. E. E. Keebler, Mrs. Fred Morgan, Mrs Homer Norris, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Mrs. R. R. Rhymes, Mrs. J. C. Sartor, Mrs. J. M. Shamblin, Mrs. H. J. Stodghill, Mrs. R. S. Swetman, Mrs. R. E. Whatley, Mrs. J. H. Wilson, Mrs. Aggie Peebles, Mrs. H. N. Venerable, Mrs. E. B. Lipscomb, Mrs. Mack Hatch, Miss Carrie Hatch and Mrs. Clarence Salmon.

A heat-proof platter is a good investment because it saves dishwashing. Meat or fish broiled on it may be brought right to the table.

Nail-Biting Ruins Hands

Few teen-agers know that by constantly biting their nails they not only ruin the shape and appearance of their hands, but they can also cause serious permanent harm to their nails.

Of course, it is only a nervous habit. But, you can do something about it now to help your nails grow and cover the bare section of skin at the tip of each finger.

There are two ways to stop biting your nails. The first is rather drastic, but it always proves effective. Using several small pieces of cotton, saturate them with tincture of quassia. Apply this to each fingernail and tip, making certain you've covered them well.

Let it dry for a few minutes. The next time you start to bite your nails you'll be discouraged by the distasteful substance left on your nails.

The second method is used working on a mind-over-matter theory. Give yourself a manicure and apply a few coats of your favorite nail polish. The polish will only accentuate the shortness of your nails and how important it is you let them grow.

So, no matter how short your nails may be, groom them regularly. File them straight across and scrub them daily with a nail brush.

Another good idea for your "nail-morale" is to purchase artificial nails (but not to wear). Trim them down to the natural - looking size with your scissors and keep them in your dressing table drawer. Then, as your nails start to grow, you can measure their improvement by trying on the artificial nails.

You can make a quick sauce for plain cake or cottage pudding by heating a cup of apricot preserves with a little lemon rind and lemon juice. Top the dessert with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream. This amount of sauce will make enough for four servings of cake or pudding. The sauce may also be used over baked custard.

Ever try adding finely diced raw celery and French dressing to peanut butter? Serve for lunch with hot cream of tomato soup.

Mrs. T. R. Lane Is Honored At Birthday Party

RAYVILLE — The Alvin Lane home was the scene of a birthday celebration honoring Mrs. T. R. Lane who celebrated her seventy-seventh birthday.

Among those enjoying the occasion with Mrs. Lane were all of her children, grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews.

Those attending from out-of-town included: Mr. and Mrs. Otis Hill and son, Dan of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Pritchard and daughter, Juday of Atlanta, Tex.; Mrs. Dell Huff of Linden, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Baughman of Lancaster, Tex.; Mrs. Ella Womble of Winnsboro; Miss Barbara Day of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Backman of Avinger, Tex.; Mrs. Thurmond Lusk of Jefferson, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Lane and children and Mrs. Alice Little, all of Monroe.

Others were, Miss Helen Diamond; Mrs. Roy Williams; Mrs. Jodie Lane and Gayle; Mrs. Beatrice Antley and Bobbye, Jr.; Mrs. Mack McConathy and daughter of Newellton; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Studdard and family; Alvin Lane, Jr., Patricia and Bubba; Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Lane, Bill and Bob.

Here's a party-pretty salad: mix finely shredded crisp green cabbage with cubed orange and French dressing. Pile the salad into scooped-out orange halves and sprinkle with paprika. The orange shells will be especially pretty if you scallop their edges with a sharp knife before filling with the slaw.

A bulky woman's common sense should tell her to avoid adding to he size, but too often one sees a large woman in a costume that consists of a wool dress and a poodle cloth jacket. Thickness of fabric as well as cut should be considered by those who are on the heavy side.

Jewelry Box Must Be Neat

The mature woman knows the importance of smart jewelry to complete her costume. And she usually has a good collection of costume necklaces, bracelets and earrings to suit every occasion and wardrobe need.

But in order to be effective, costume jewelry must be kept in good condition. Jewelry pieces, like wardrobe pieces, should be rotated in order to get the maximum wear from each one.

If you insist upon wearing that one pair of silver earrings, for instance, both you and your "pals" will soon grow tired of them.

And if that jewelry box is going to do its job it means that your jewelry box itself must be neat or as organized as it should be.

Most jewelry boxes have two shelves. Your earrings should go on the top shelf, with bracelets and pins on the bottom shelf.

To avoid tangling, close all bracelets, necklaces and pins. If the bottom layer of your jewelry box isn't sectioned, make small cardboard separators to separate the heavier, bulky jewelry from your more delicate pieces.

Pearls are often described as lustrous. Is your pearl jewelry as lustrous as it was when you bought it? If not, remind yourself to give it more frequent tubbings. Place your pearl jewelry in a basin full of lukewarm suds and scrub it with a soft, sudsy brush. Wipe it dry with a lintless cloth.

A well - organized jewelry box makes for easy reaching and selection of that particular piece of jewelry needed to add "personality" to your costume.

It must be that little ash trays are irritating to everyone. The ones you see get bigger and bigger. A big ash tray is a sound buy if you smoke a lot or if you let trays on small tables where they might get brushed off. If you feel they're too big, get smaller ones, but heavy ones.

The really covered-up look offers an alternate to the baretop dress for party wear this fall. But no halfway measures — high neck, long sleeves, too, make this style what it is. A boon to those with bony shoulders or not-so-pretty arms.

A closet for a small child is a help. Push a small chest of drawers into a corner. Clothes are short and narrow. They can be one above the other or side by side. A low rod encourages him to hang up his own stuff.

A wedding gown that magically becomes a short evening dress is nice for a tiny budget. But if you're able, a real dress will be very satisfying to have and as a family tradition, useful for cousins, sisters-in-law and daughters.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: Thought you'd like to hear about a happy marriage. We think the following factors are important: Similar family backgrounds gave us the same set of values. Met in high school and knew each other for seven years before we married. Our wedding was a religious ceremony because to us, that mattered; altar vows might bind tightly but that makes the marriage sweeter and more secure.

We never cease working for temperamental harmony; it is important to expect perfection, not from your mate, but from yourself. Physical harmony . . . -m-mmm. Kids; four . . . so far. Being, and liking to be, parents is wonderful. Money . . . If we ever had any we would have the same ideas about what it was for. In-laws . . . we liked each other's families from the start; if we did not, we love one another enough to accept and adjust to them.—Truly lucky.

In short, two adults, emotionally mature, with no false values, with the same set of goals and . . . m-m-mmm! Yes; we believe you; yours is a happy marriage and within the reach of almost any couple. Thank you.

Dear Mrs. Landers: My husband and I are in our 30s and have been married for 15 years. We have a 6-year-old daughter. During our entire marriage, my husband has held the threat of an old love of his over my head. He refuses to forget it and nothing I do, or try to be, can compensate for the "love" he gave up to marry me. Because of it he has thrown religion out of his life, he drinks alone and abuses me mentally and orally. Please advise me. — Frustrated

For heaven's sake, does the child you married think that he is alone in the world with the "love" he gave up to marry? Every married man and woman, at times, feels that the old flame would have made a better mate.

Why not? The old loves remain young, charming and romantic without the bills, hair curlers, receding hairlines, crying babies, diapers, scrubbuckets and all the rest of the real trappings of any normal, married life. Tell your husband to wake up and grow up, or get out and go back to his old flame.

Dear Mrs. Landers: I am 18 and was put out of school because I got into some trouble with a girl. I was then put out of four other schools and also lost a good job.

Now, my parents will give me no money; not even carfare so I can look for a job. So far I haven't been able to find one. They say they will only give me a place to stay. I thought that a mother would stick with you through thick and thin; mine even says she wishes I were dead. Sometimes I think I should end it all. Please advise me.—SONNY

You have us all weeping . . . for your mother! You bet mothers stick through thick and thin, but there comes a day when even mother wakes up and sees a bad penny for what it is.

Kicked out of four schools and can't find a job. Applesauce. There's always a job somewhere for a person who will really work. Your parents are probably fed up with giving you job-hunting money to see it go down the drain.

Your mother means, when she says she wishes you were dead, that it would be better that way than to see you as you are . . . and you know it. Now, Bub, if you want money and your parents' respect, get out and earn both.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of Morning World.

Distributed by Chicago Sun-Times Syndicate.

Brush thick slices of onion with melted butter or margarine and broil until partly soft and lightly browned. Sprinkle with grated cheese and continue broiling until cheese melts. Delicious with meat or fish or on a vegetable plate!

1. True. "Science News Letter" states Dr. E. E. Hunt, Jr. finds fat fathers not only have more daughters but more children. He also finds young men today weigh more than their fathers, although their dads were more potbellied. Some women must have loved 'em in spite of their equatorial rotoundity.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. You'd think so. Restaurants print menus in French. Music reads "pianissimo" and "forte" instead of "very softly" and "loud." Doctors frighten their patients by telling them they have an "endema" instead of a "swelling." Legal documents end in "S. L." or "Locus silligi," meaning "sign here." Prescriptions are written in Latin also.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Dr. D. F. Munro strongly recommends them. He says they are affectionate; need feeding only once a month; do not purr, sing, or bark! He carried a garger snake, "Lulubelle," in his sleeve in the Army (left sleeve so as not to jostle sweet Lulubelle when saluting). She was always contented, just like the copperhead he now keeps on his desk- Well, Doc, tastes do differ.

Fire Prevention Week Will Get Started Monday

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 2 (Special) — Monday is the opening day of fire prevention week. Commenting on this fact, Gov. Robert F. Kennon said Saturday:

"The mere fact that we have set aside a week known as Fire Prevention Week is not going to cut our fire losses by an appreciable amount during this time. But it is a period of time set aside during which we may take stock of the size of the loss caused by fire each year and gives us an opportunity to learn what experts are doing to help us reduce these losses.

"Not too many people have direct contact with the State Fire Marshal's Department. A lot of people have the mistaken idea that this department actually puts out fires, but of course this is a job of local fire departments. It is the fire marshal's job to prevent fires before they start. Fire prevention and arson detection are his principal duties.

"It is estimated that nine out of ten 'accidental' fires could have been prevented. They result from fire hazards which are allowed to exist through carelessness or ignorance. Fire hazards exist in the home, in the office, the factory, on the farm and wherever people live and work.

"Through a number of well-planned programs, the fire marshal's department tries to eliminate fire hazards and make these places as safe as possible. At the same time the department seeks to eliminate 'fire traps' so that if fire does start the occupants will have the best possible chance to escape.

"One of the methods used to achieve this end is the inspection of existing buildings to eliminate conditions that might cause fire and to see that there are sufficient exits for escape in the event fire starts.

"This sort of inspection is a year-round job. In 1953 approximately 23,000 such inspections were made, by the department's inspectors.

"Inspections and discovery of hazardous conditions is only the beginning of correcting a bad situation. It takes salesmanship and persuasion to correct defects, largely because of the costs which may be involved.

"New buildings, too, are also inspected. The department's architectural and engineering division examines plans and specifications for all new buildings except residences still on the drawing board. Last year the department examined plans and specifications for 1,466 new or altered buildings.

"Another of the fire marshal's important duties is the detection and suppression of arson. Relatively few fires are set. Nevertheless, arson is a serious problem in Louisiana as it is in every other state. The fire marshal and his deputies are the principal force in Louisiana that deal with this crime. Hundreds of suspicious fires are investigated each year, and, when warranted, charges are filed in ou criminal courts.

"Sidney Bowman, state fire marshal, believes that his department's success in arson work as well as in fire prevention, depends upon cooperation from local fire departments.

"Apparently the cooperation has been successful. Last year property losses caused by fire across the nation was 14.1 per cent. Louisiana had an increase of less than 1 per cent.

"But no matter how diligently the fire marshal and local fire departments carry out their program they are not the final answer to fire prevention. We must learn and remember the simple rules established for fire safety and fire prevention. Until this time the loss of life and property from fire will continue to be greater than it might be."

Spilled coffee? When you take the dress off, mark the area with a circle, using plain old chalk. Then pin a note to your cleaner on to the dress, telling him exactly what you spilled — whether the coffee had cream in it or not.

Want Relaxed Existance? Get Rid Of Hidden Tension

Protecting The Nervous System

Believe me, while we could not live without nerves they can give us "fits." When I say that I am no' thinking of the chronically nervous person who twitches about and is what we would normally call "a nervous person." These persons have a problem but many others suffer from nervous tension even though they may seem to be the calmest people and are the last to suspect that they suffer from hidden tensions.

Of course so long as we are alive and perceptive, we will have some of these hidden tensions. Sometimes I think that the more perceptive a person is, not about himself but about others and life in general, the more impact life has on him. This acts in two ways, one of them very rewarding. If you are exceptionally perceptive you will be more aware of the drama, poignancy, adventure and tragedy in daily living. You will live more richly, and you will have to pay a price for it, but daily living will never become humdrum.

So, let's think of a few simple suggestions which will be helpful to the chronically nervous person and to the calm one who has hidden tensions.

We Worry All Over

The simple rules for physical health sound very mundane but they do work, not only in the physical department but in the emotional, mental and spiritual departments.

Worry causes nervous exhaustion. Well, what can we do when we have things to worry about? Do not forget that worry is not just a mental process. When we worry, we worry with our hearts and our circulation, our muscles (which become tense,) and our glands. The chemistry of our saliva even changes when we worry.

We must do what we can about our worries and then forget them as much as possible. It IS possible to replace a gloomy thought with a happy one.

Get enough rest. We have to balance the books of energy. We must give nature time to replace the output with enough sleep and short rest periods, and vacations.

Exercise Relaxes

Nutrition plays a big role in health and your emotional stability depends a lot on the state of your health.

Exercise is the great antidote for nervous tension. It is impossible to feel tense after a good swim, after a game of badminton or tennis or golf—which depends on your physical condition and your age. It is also impossible to feel quite so tense or gloomy after some special exercises, taken to music.

The stretch of your muscles, the speedup in your circulation and heart-beat and respiration, will lift tenseness and give you hope. However, as I have said thousands of times in this column, let your doctor decide what sort of exercise is best for you.

Catholic Women Plan Big Annual Bazaar Later On

The ladies of St. Matthew's and Our Lady of Fatima Churches are real busybodies these days coordinating plans for the many different operations required to put into action their annual bazaar when the doors open to the public for two days, Tuesday November 9 and Wednesday 10.

Aside from turkey dinners, gumbo, home made cakes and candies offered, there will be many booths catering to the public need at the seasons gift time. Hand work, exquisitely executed by these noted needlewomen, will again be available. Lovely embroidered linens, table cloths and various crocheted and knitted articles to appeal to the lover of the fine art of hand work. An apron booth, so dear to the feminine heart, will be a center of attraction to the Christmas shopper.

And the small fry will definitely be remembered where a novelty booth will display eye catching gifts for the younger generation; and other interesting booths are planned for opening time with fun provoking games featured throughout the two day's gala affair.

St. Matthew's Student Council Holds Meeting

The Student Council of St. Matthew's High School met in assembly on Friday afternoon, with the president, Don Saucier, in the chair. Sister Patricia, principal, led the group in prayer after which Mr. Saucier introduced two speakers for the occasion, A. V. Sciroe and G. Whitlow, representatives of the safety division, Monroe police department, who spoke to the students relative to the safety campaign and contest that is currently underway in the schools of the Twin Cities.

The motto or slogan proposed to the teen-agers by the speakers was "'T' models couldn't speed — teen models shouldn't speed, and the goal proposed was: "Make Twin Cities Louisiana's Safest."

Neville, Ouachita, St. Matthew's and West Monroe High Schools are participants in four monthly contests with prizes offered for the winners in the best Safety Slogan Contest, the best Safety Poster Contest, the best Safety Essay Contest, and the best Safety Suggestion Contest. Prizes will be in cash Sears Coupon Books, also a $100 cash award to the school library of the highest winning school, and $50.00 in cash to the library of the second highest winning school.

There will be a thirty minute radio program at the end of each monthly contest when prizes will be awarded to the student participants.

Mr. Saucier thanked the speakers, Mr. Sciroe and Mr. Whitlow, for their interest in visiting the school and for their clear explanation of the Safety Contest. He then proceded with further business before the student body. A vote of thanks was tendered Joseph Bruscato for volunteering to take care of the chairs at all school assemblies and to Pete Battaglia for raising and lowering the flag each day.

Thanks were extended Miss Rose Marie Maxey for writing the school's notices each day on the bulletin. The Matthuetics were commended for their excellent performances with a special tribute extended Coach Dolly Sweet who leads the pep squad.

It was announced that each class will be responsible for two window boxes as of last session, and that the classes may plant whatever flowers or plants they choose.

The Student Council voted to raise one hundred dollars to be donated to the Daughters of the Cross as a gift for their Centennial Jubilee Year. The main support of this money drive will be the annual sale of Christmas cards, and a booth will handle these at both the Mothers' Club Carnival on October 6 in the school gym, and the church bazaar on November 9. The meeting concluded with a prayer led by the Reverend Dave Dabria.

Nebo Baptists In Jena Celebrating One Hundred Yrs.

JENA, La. (Special) — Celebrating its 99th year of organization, Nebo Baptist Church, one of the oldest Baptist churches in Louisiana, will observe annual homecoming Sunday, Oct. 3, it was announced this week by the Rev. Kenneth Wall, pastor.

Organized almost a century ago, the church has had a number of "homecoming" gatherings at various times, Rev. Wall stated. "But, by recent action of the church, the first Sunday in October has been set aside annually for the homecoming services, with the public cordially invited to attend and participate in the worship services of the day."

Pointing out that this year marks the 99th year of its existence, the present pastor reports that there are only four former pastors now living and said that "it is hoped that all of them can be present for the observance Sunday." They were listed as the Revs. T. J. Ratcliff, Dewie Byrd, C. C. Wilson and a Rev. Bridges.

The regular schedule of services will be followed for the morning hours and immediately following the end of the morning worship, there will be an old-fashioned dinner on the ground "as only good, country folks know how to prepare and enjoy."

After the noonday feast, the gathering will convene in the church auditorium for an afternoon service which will include roll-call, history of the church, words from former pastors, the main address of homecoming and an informal period of singing and fellowship.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: Why don't the churches, instead of wasting time quarrelling among themselves, do something to stop the nations of the world from fighting one another? — A. M.

ANSWER: You will forgive my ignorance, but I was not aware that the churches in our day were wasting much time by quarrelling among themselves. For the most part they seem to be getting on pretty well together and are now more united than ever before — particularly on the main points of Christian belief and practice.

Even so, you doubtless press your question upon me. Why do they not make some attempt to check the war - like tendencies among the nations?

My answer is this. First, what more can they do than proclaim to the world the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ as God's way of salvation for men and nations? In doing that, they are carrying out the Lord's own great command and at the same time they are rendering their highest service to the world.

In the second place, whose fault is it if the nations reject the Christian message and choose to go their own way — the way that leads to hatred and strife and bloodshed? The churches cannot be blamed for that.

Of course, it may well be that the churches ought to be making their witness more clearly heard and warning the nations in even plainer terms of the disastrous consequences which must follow if they turn their back upon God and follow antichrist. The world must be told that peace is possible — but only in God's way and on God's terms. Peace, as the Bible says; is the fruit of righteousness; and righteousness depends on men being in a right relationship with God as well as with one another.

Stockings do shrink, so be sure to get them plenty long in the toe. Anything that pulls your toes under, even a little bit, is to be avoided.

October Bulb Planting Time

The rains were appreciated by all of us. I hope you had fed your lawn so the showers soaked the fertilizer in well. As soon as the weather is cool, you can plant your winter grass, if you plan to do that. It's about the only cover that will grow in the winter and saves some of the muddy tracking in. Ken Roth and John Lacey are planning to put out winter grass at their new homes.

Our garden specialist from LSU extension gave us a good idea for hiding clothes lines. She says stretch a sheet of poultry wire on posts a little taller than the clothes line and the same length. Plant vines to hide the wire. Confederate jasmine is a good one to plant, since it doesn't grow too rank and out of bounds. Be sure to make the same kind of screening on the side next to your neighbor's yard because they won't enjoy your laundry display.

Think a long time before placing your clothes line. On a small lot it should be placed close to the edge of the lot so as not to take up too much room. Also close to the laundry or kitchen or whever you do the laundering. That saves lots of steps. A clothes line is such a permanent prop after it's placed, so do some planning first.

Bulb Planting Time

October is our bulb planting month. The seed stores and nurseries have bins of the finest looking bulbs I've seen. Get yours early before the supply is exhausted. You can plant narcissus, daffodils, Dutch, grape and Roman hyacinths, crocus, scilla, anemone, ranunculus, tulips, Dutch iris, calla lily, creole lily, lycorus squamigera. Be sure to get your tulip bulbs in time to keep them in the ice box for two or three weeks before planting. Also, pick up a sack of bone meal to work in the soil before planting.

If you're buying bulbs by the hundreds to plant in a pasture or on a hill side, you can take advantage of the bargains because they are usually small bulbs that will produce small blossoms. If you're buying by the dozen and want choice blooms, buy from your dealers at home where you can see your bulbs. Buy early and expect to pay fair prices. "Blooming size bulbs" means nothing more than that you'll have bloom—no size is mentioned.

Good bulbs should be heavy for their size, firm of flesh and plump. They should be free of bruises and scars. Plant them according to the depth recommended for that bulb. The dealer can tell you. The recommendations are too varied to mention here.

Also, remember not only the beauty of the blossoms in early spring, but the ugly disorder the dying tops cause in your garden in later spring. Plan to plant a ground cover in the winter such as one of the many different ivys, confederate jasmine or trailing periwinkle. If you don't want to give that much of your garden over to ground covers, plan to plant seed of early annuals when you plant your bulbs. Some of these are cornflower, larkspur, poppies, phlox, and others. Daisies would hide the foliage too, and you can divide and transplant them any time now after some good rains and when the weather turns cooler.

Here And There

If you're riding around the hills of West Monroe you'll see the French mulberry with its hundreds of purple berries in clusters on a long drooping branch. This is an excellent deciduous shrub for your garden. Plant several in a row and the effect is beautiful. You'll have the berries for arrangements in the house, too.

I saw calendula plants in one of the nurseries today, nice healthy ones. If you put these out now and we have a late freeze, you'll enjoy early blooms. Calendula can stand lots of cold but not heavy freezes.

Sara and Wesley Shafto have really done a lovely job of brick laying in their patio. They treated a tiny area in a most attractive way, bricking around a red bud, leaving beds around the edge. When you walk out the back door, the effect is just too pretty to describe. They enjoy this out-door living room, too, the entire family. Not only eating and playing outside, but the actual work of making gave the family enjoyable hours together.

Honey Month

October is Louisiana honey month. Let's use more of this delicious and nutritious sweet produced right here at home. Besides the sugar, honey is chock full of minerals and B and C vitamins. It is so easily digested. Honey keeps baked foods moist, more so than those using sugar as the sweetening.

We have a bulletin list brimming full of the best honey recipes. Any grocery man who would like a supply of these to pass out to his customers, call me at 2-2251. I'll bring the bulletins by your store. Food stores — why not put up a honey display and push the sale of our local product during the month of October?

MRS. ROBERT E. CREIGHTON

Noted Arranger To Teach In Flower School

Mrs. Robert E. Creighton of Chattanooga, Tenn., will teach "Elements of Flower Arrangement" and "Flower Show Practice" in flower show school No. 1 sponsored by the Fifth District Garden Federation, October 6-7-8 at the Louisiana Tech Agriculture Building in Ruston. The signal distinction of being the first accredited instructor of the National Council of Garden Clubs in Tennessee falls to Mrs. Creighton. It was largely due to her efforts that the first series of judging schools was given in her state in 1943, and it is through her continued efforts that Chattanooga has completed five series and is now on the sixth.

The purple ribbon was awarded Mrs. Creighton by the National Council of Garden Clubs for her work in establishing test rose gardens in Tennessee. At the present she is supervising the selection and plantings of more than 2,000 rose bushes. The Memorial Rose Garden of Chattanooga was under her direction for a period of three years.

Flower arrangement was first begun by Mrs. Creighton as a hobby. It was not long, however, until this hobby became a full time occupation of private lessons, class work, flower show schools for the garden clubs of several states, and personal appearances at many flower shows. She has judged and lectured in most of the states and has exhibited both at many shows and horticultural meetings in Flower Show Hall of the country. A booklet of collecting unusual containers of one variety is an interesting feature of her work and many of these will be shown at the school.

Mrs. Creighton is active in Mrs. Creighton is active in Mrs. Garden Club of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Tennessee Federation of Garden Clubs, and is a member of Town Hall Music Club, Chattanooga Town and Country Club, and Tennessee Valley Art Association.

The school will be a 3-day school of instruction and demonstration. Registration is limited to 60 of the approximate limitation. Registration is limited to 60 of the approximate limitation. Mr. C. G. Business Women Week Is Fixed By Mayor Coon

Monroe Mayor John E. Coon has proclaimed the week of October 10 through October 16 "Business Women's Week" in Monroe in conjunction with National business Women's Week.

In making the proclamation, Coon pointed out the Monroe Business and professional Women's Club is "contributing much toward the development of business and industry," and urged all local leaders of business and industry to join in the observance.

Mrs. Inas Harrington, president of the local club, pointed out that the club is attempting to have their members take active parts in turning out voters for the general election this year in accordance with the "Get-Out-and-Vote" program being carried out on a national scale.

She also said Saturday the local club is planning many varied activities for the forthcoming year, and in January will have a citizen's forum on "The Town We Want" in which outstanding citizens of the city give their views on what Monroe could do to improve itself.

About 75 local women are members of the local club, Mrs. Harrington said, and plans are to expand to about double that number next year.

Meetings are held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

La.'s Profit In Offshore Lands Is $75 Million

BATON ROUGE — Since the first Louisiana offshore lands were leased after the close of World War II, the state has profited a total of almost $75 million.

Mrs. Ellen Bryan Moore, register of state lands who collects Louisiana's share of money from tidelands, announced that $25,200,775.45 received during the first three quarters of 1954 from oil companies operating in the Gulf of Mexico brought to $74,861,186.32 the total received on state - owned submerged lands since 1946.

The state land office, Mrs. Moore said, collected $5,969,713.35 from all sources during September, of which $5,053,536.07 was derived strictly from mineral leases. Of that last figure, $3,600,152.28 came in from tidelands leases.

The $5 million September receipts brought to $48,852,867.78 total received by the land office during 1954, Mrs. Moore said.

She compared the near $50 million three - quarter 1954 collections with the $33 million collected over the 12-month period of 1953, giving credit to recent leasing of new offshore areas by the state mineral board for the big upsurge.

A breakdown of the September receipts indicates that $5,053,536.07 was received by the state land office from mineral lease rentals, bonuses and royalties, $1,273.28 from surface leases on state owned land, and $14,904 from a right of way grant over Louisiana land.

Bible Words for Today

PSALM 46:10—"Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth."

• • •

To me this is a favorite verse of Scripture because it serves to turn man's gaze from himself to the God who made him, and Who is far more able to deal with the crucial issues of our time than any of us who are finite beings and subject to definite limitations. Sometimes we are tempted to wonder how matters are going to turn out in the midst of a tragic world, and then as we read these lines of the Psalmist we are reminded that the last chapter of history will not be written by evil men, but that in due season God's name and way will prevail.

A great deal of our discouragement is due to an inadequate conception of God, and to insufficient faith to believe that the forces of evil are subject to the sovereignty of God. The New Testament verse which might correspond with this verse from the Psalmist is the one in which Jesus said to His followers: "Be of good cheer, I have overcome the world." It is in this assurance that we find our peace and face the future with renewed confidence.

Sec. Weeks Says U. S. Economy Is Strong And Virile

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 2—UP—The top business spokesman in Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks, says the U. S. economy is "strong and virile."

Weeks speaking Friday night at a Republican $100-a-plate dinner, said "people" had been trying to talk the nation into a depression.

"That kind of talk is dangerous," he said. "If you think you are sick, sometimes you may get sick.

"The economy is strong and virile. When the Republicans stopped the war in Korea, it was inevitable there would be some business retrenchment," Weeks said. "But we are expanding, and have been expanding, for the last six months."

He said the Eisenhower administration was doing its best to help business.

"We have created a climate where the businessman will get a fair hearing," the secretary said. "But more important, we are taking the government out of business.

Disarmament To Be Debated In General Assembly

UNITED NATIONA, N. Y., Oct. 2 — UP— Full - dress debate on Russia's latest disarmament plan probably will get under way in the General Assembly's main political committee late next week, United Nations diplomats predicted Saturday.

The complicated plan, bur before the Assembly by Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky last Thursday, calls for freezing the world's armed strength and military expenditures at the level of last Dec. 31, after which an agreed reduction would be effected in two phases.

In the second phase, under the Russian plan, all atomic, hydrogen and other weapons of mass destruction would be outlawed simultaneously with the creation of an international control organ to enforce their prohibition. The West always has balked in the past at Russia's insistence on creating the control organ simultaneously with the destruction of stockpiles nuclear weapons.

Vishinsky asked that the Assembly list his proposal on its agenda as a separate item, and the steering committee will meet Tuesday to decide this.

Disarmament already is on the agenda in the guise of a report of the unsuccessful efforts of the UN's 12-nation disarmament commission to reach agreement. Vishinsky was expected to agree, in the end, to having the Kremlin plan debated as a subsection of a general disarmament item.

Postal Workers On Lookout For Phony Operators

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2— UP— Only 72 shopping days until Christmas.

And the gullible public will forfeit more than $1 million to mail fraud schemes before that time is up, post office officials said Saturday.

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield warned recently that the period after Labor Day is the lucrative season for promoters of mail fraud gyps appealing to the Christmas trade.

Postal inspectors would like to trap all these "con" men, but are hampered not only by short staffs but by the tremendous voulme of Christmas mail which can't be checked. The answer, Summerfield said, is for the public to be on the laert to report sucker traps and help catch those responsible.

Summerfield said that last year the public was "taken" for more than $10 million despite all-out efforts of the postal inspection service. He also noted that 98 percent of the phoney operators brought to trial were convicted.

He emphasized that none of the cases involved reputable mail order firms.

One case of fraud he said, involved 10,000 persons who mailed a total of $15,000 to a Chicago man who had sent them post cards from a "Swiss watch company." The post card asked $1.66 for "Christmas package" handling charges. The persons mailed the money on the apparent assumption that they would get a package from the company. Most of the money was recovered and the man was convicted of mail fraud.

Louisiana-Texas Battle Over Pelicans Renewed

BATON ROUGE—Governor Robert F. Kennon today resumed the friendly Louisiana-Texas running fight over the issue of which state breeds the better grade of pelicans.

In a telegram to Texas Governor Allan Shivers, Kennon jibed Louisiana's neighbors in their inability to keep their own pelicans alive and available as additions to foreign zoos.

Kennon also offered a pair of Louisiana birds to Texas in a tongue-in-cheek effort for Texans to breed finer birds.

Mrs. Ellen Bryan Moore, register of the State Land Office, Thursday directed the sending of two hardy Louisiana pelicans to the zoo at the University of Puerto Rico. The birds were enroute today to San Juan before Shivers or any other Texan ever heard that Puerto Rico was asking for the creatures to add to their university game preserve.

Mrs. Moore officially presented the Louisiana specimens Thursday in behalf of the state to a Puerto Rican representative in Ryan Airport ceremonies.

The pelicans, captured by state wildlife personnel in Pass-a-Loutre game preserve, Plaquemines Parish, were airplaned to New Orleans via Delta C & S Airline without charge.

State and federal health officers in New Orleans promised to give the birds a quick, thorough inspection on the New Orleans stopover preliminary to the Delta C & S air trip to San Juan via Havana and Ciudad Trujillo.

Two years ago London zoo officials were hunting for a pair of pelicans that could perpetuate themselves in the British Isles. Instead of making the request to Louisiana, known as the Pelican State, London officials made the mistake of communicating with Governor Shivers.

Of the two Texas pelicans shipped to London, only one survived. A pair of Louisiana birds sent later by Governor Kennon are still keeping company in their new London habitat.

Governor Kennon subsequently pointed out to Governor Shivers that Louisiana's web-footed creatures are the stronger breed.

Kennon's telegram today to Shivers read:

"Honorable Allan Shivers, Governor of Texas, Austin, Texas:

"Because Texas once challenged Louisiana supremacy in pelican production, I would like to point out that we have recently dispatched on request of Puerto Rico authorities two Louisiana native pelicans for the University zoo.

"Apparently Puerto Rico, like the London zoo, finds Louisiana birds live more wholesome lives, are hardier specimens and boast more longevity than their Texas relatives.

"As a neighborly gesture, I would be happy to send you two of ours for breeding purposes to improve your basic stock. Best wishes.

"Robert F Kennon."

Oppenheimer Given Vote Of Confidence

NEW YORK, Oct. 2— UP— Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, barred from the government's atomic secrets as a security risk, has been given a unanimous vote of confidence by trustees of the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, N. J.

Oppenheimer was unanimously re-elected director of the institute Friday by the government, financial and scientific leaders who comprise the board of trustees.

Among the trustees at the meeting was Rear Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, who recently ruled the atom physicist should be deprived of access to government secrets. Strauss, first to leave the Friday meeting, did not say if he had cast a ballot.

Public Wants Facts Not Fiction

By PHILIP AHN
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, October 2—Nowadays, as never before, the moviegoing public wants and demands realism in their entertainment, screen and otherwise. Not only realism, but also validity in characterizations, as well as stories.

Years ago, the cash customers were happy with a diet of entertainment candy bars, or something approximating that. But that era has passed into the limbo of things forgotten. In 1954, the public want the facts in life portrayed as such —not sugar-coated fiction which they cannot believe as true. Honesty has become the best policy in the movie business. This applies to every segment of picturemaking, all the way down the line.

Of course this policy must start with the story, itself, as this is the point of origin for all productions. Situations must reflect life as it really is — not as some dreamer visualizes it. Plausibility must be a basic characteristic, scene by scene, and the various characters must behave like human beings, good, bad and indifferent—not like people out of some fable of a bygone century. They must be flesh-and-blood persons, nothing else.

Indicative of this trend is the relatively - new and increasing policy of making pictures in fresh locales in order to obtain authentic backgrounds and new acting types. Although this plan impairs employment in the Hollywood studios, I regret, nevertheless, it often results in a new and authorative approach to story material. It's all part of the desire to bring reality and validity of pictures.

Actors, too, can share in this trend towards greater realism. I, personally, feel I have increased my knowledge of human behavior — how people really conduct themselves—through opening my Moongate restaurant, in Panorama City, near Hollywood. The experience I am gaining, in my daily contacts with my patrons, has broadened my understanding of people and I believe this new experience will help me, as an actor give better and more realistic performances. It's nothing less than amazing how much you can learn through intimate contact with the public, as at the Moongate, and of course you come across a genuine cross-section of life under such circumstances.

Producers, directors and writers, too, in my opinion should devote considerable time to studying life and human beings as they really exist. It's so easy to live in an ivory tower and let the world go by without paying much attention to its mores and habits. But this doesn't make for reality on the screen. And, as I have emphasized before, nowadays the public demands realism—not phony fiction.

Why is the moviegoing public so sophisticated and analytical at the present time? Well, never before have there been so many sources of news and information and consequently, never have people known so much about this world of ours and all its events, both good and bad. Nowadays, there are literally hundreds of magazines which mirror our times, supplemented by thousands of newspapers, plus radio and television. The public is constantly exposed to knowledge and some of it must rub off on the memory.

The smarter movie producing individuals are studying these sources of information more and more in order to keep informed on human behavior on local, national and international levels. Here, within easy reach, is a wealth of knowledge which is bound to inject itself into the productions they are making for the screen. It doesn't do any harm to take a refresher course in life occasionally, and this is a convenient technique for accomplishing just this.

Greater realism in the presentation of subjects on the screen is now becoming possible through a more adult attitude on the part of those groups and organizations which, legally or otherwise, censor motion pictures. The taboos of yesterday have become obsolete and old fashioned in many instances. The world is slowly growing up and discarding notions which were fundamentally impractical and restrictive to an unnecessary degree.

This vigorous trend towards realism, however, must in no sense conflict with good taste in the presentation of film subjects. I'm sure that the producing firms fully realize his undeniable fact. If they should stray onto improper and evil grounds, their conduct is certain to prove a boomerang and react against their productions eventually. A desire to stress reality must be tempered with common sense and good taste and this, of course, will be a basic Hollywood policy, I'm sure.

Yes, the screen surely is becoming a more accurate reflection of life. It's a good, sound trend which no doubt will substantially improve the entertainment content of motion pictures. There's bound to be a payoff in audience interest and patronage as a reward for such validity.

SHORTLY...

THAT IS THE CAVE AS IT HAS BEEN DESCRIBED TO ME!

SEE IF SHE IS IN THERE.

SLAY ME FIRST, MY KING, BUT ASK ME N..NOT TO GO IN TH-THERE!

I HAVE CHILDREN FOR GUARDS INSTEAD OF MEN!
